U.S. Weighs Next Step on Atomic Pool

Two Possibilities for Action Open in Bid For Soviet Acceptance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, undeterred by Moscow's initial coldness, weighed today the nature and timing of the next step in pressing for acceptance of the Eisenhower plan for an international atomic pool.

Officials speculatively pointed out two possibilities for action:

1. A formal request may be made in the United Nations Disarmament Commission for appointment of a subcommittee consisting of nations with atomic resources. They would hold secret talks on the plan, as President Eisenhower suggested when he presented it to the U. N. Assembly Tuesday.

2. Secretary of State Dulles will have opportunity at a forthcoming conference of Big Four foreign ministers in Berlin to discuss the idea privately with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov—if that seems to be a good idea at the time.

Dulles Heads for Paris

Dulles takes off for Paris late today to attend a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Council. He may discuss the next step on the atomic plan there with British and French officials.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey and Secretary of Defense Wilson also are going to the Dec. 14-16 NATO meetings, whose major objective is strengthening Western defense arrangements in Europe.

First Soviet reaction to the President's proposal—for an international atomic agency, under the United Nations, to develop the peaceful uses of nuclear energy—was given in a Moscow radio broadcast Wednesday. The Russians derided Eisenhower's U. N. speech as a "warmongering" address and contended he had "threatened atomic war."

Not Yielded to Reds

Their principal complaint seemed to be that Eisenhower had not yielded to the Soviet insistence on immediate outlawing of all kinds of atomic weapons.

The official U. S. reaction to this Soviet blast was that it did not "necessarily represent the considered decision of the Soviet government."

For the time being, officials said today, the United States will take a wait-and-see attitude. The government will not make a final determination of what the next move should be until there is some definite indication of the Soviet government's reaction.

Red Stalling Tactics Force Halt to Interviews of POWs

KOREAN WAIFS. Rhoda Jane and Daniel Spaulding, known as Yang Han Me and Chung Lee Nam in their last home, a Korean orphanage, arrived in Seattle en route to their new home in Berrien Springs, Mich. The tots are being adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Spaulding of Berrien Springs. Robert Pannabecker, Northwest Airlines official at Pusan, and his wife, are shown holding the tots whom they cared for on the overseas flight.

Explanations Suspended by Commission

Whole Program Might Be Called Off, Says Head of Neutral Group

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Allied efforts to woo home war prisoners who stayed with the Communists—including 22 Americans and one Briton—were threatened today by Red slowdown tactics which forced suspension of interviews with South Korean POWS.

Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya, Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission, said 30 ROK prisoners would be called up for interviews tomorrow. But there was no indication whether the sessions would be held.

Suspends Program

Thimayya suspended the Allied explanation program Friday after 25 of 30 prisoners insisted on making their own explanations to Allied interviewing officers.

He said that if the POWS refuse to accept NNRC conditions for the interciews "I'm afraid the explanations will come to an end."

After a hurried meeting of the NNRC Thimayya announced that 30 more South Koreans would appear Saturday. He did not say whether there was any sign of a change in Communist tactics.

The Indian general also announced that a Red request to interview 250 anti-Red Koreans Saturday was turned down because the prisoners refuse to leave their compound. Some of these prisoners were interviewed earlier and the rest have refused to budge.

May Go to Washington

Special U. S. Envoy Arthur H. Dean said he may fly to Washington before Christmas and leave the stalled talks on arrangements for a Korean peace conference in the hands of his chief aide.

If Dean leaves, Allied negotiations probably will be taken over by Kenneth T. Young, the State Department's director of Northeast Asian affairs and Dean's No adviser.

The State Department announced in Washington Thursday that Dean has been authorized to return home. It said the spokesman for 17 nations which fought in Korea has not been ordered home but may return for consultations.

The diplomats made no progress Friday toward removing the big roadblock to a peace conference—Communists insistence that Russia attend as a non-voting neutral rather than as a full participant.

They agreed to meet again Saturday.

Delays Talks with GIs

The snarl in the Allied explanation program definitely has delayed the start of interviews with the 22 Americans and one British prisoner.

Allied officials said the Red slowdown appears to be aimed at tying up the explanation program before the non-Koreans are called.

The U. N. Command had planned to complete interviews with 328 South Koreans early next week, then ask for the others.

All 255 Koreans interviewed chose to stay with the Reds.

McCARTHY HAS WITNESS EJECTED. On orders from Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) (right, background) Pvt. James L. Goodall of the Capitol Police ejects Henry Nathan Shoiket of Brooklyn, N. Y., from Senate hearing room in Washington. McCarthy, chairman of Senate probers looking for Soviet spying at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., told police to eject Shoiket for shouting denials of espionage about which he had not been questioned.

Army Security Officials Called By McCarthy

Laxity in Dealing With Suspected Instances Of Disloyalty Charged

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army security officials were called for questioning today by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) about what he has termed laxity in dealing with suspected disloyal persons at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

McCarthy did not name the Army officers he planned to question at a secret afternoon session, one of a series he has been conducting in an announced hunt for espionage at the Army's Signal Corps laboratories at Ft. Monmouth, site of radar and weapons research.

Nor did he name former Ft. Monmouth workers he summoned to an earlier public session of the Senate investigations subcommittee he heads.

He did say he would give a last chance to testify to Joseph Percoff, whom he threatened with a contempt of Congress citation yesterday after, he said, Percoff failed to respond to a subpoena. McCarthy described Percoff as a New York lawyer who once worked at Ft. Monmouth.

The senator also threatened contempt action against Samuel Snyder and Morris Savitt, whom he described as former employes at Ft. Monmouth. Neither answered when his name was called for testimony, nor did Percoff. McCarthy said all three had previously been questioned in secret sessions.

McCarthy said he plans to ask Pentagon screening board members this afternoon some questions about the cases of employes at the fort suspended since his investigation started, then reinstated.

New Charges In Greenlease Case Planned

Police Board Claims Shoulders, Patrolman Violated Regulations

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Police Board plans to file formal charges accusing former Lt. Louis Shoulders and Patrolman Elmer Dolan of violating regulations in their handling of the arrest of Carl Austin Hall.

Hall, the kidnap-killer of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease, is awaiting execution in the Missouri penitentiary Dec. 18.

Dolan Suspended

I. A. Long, board president, said yesterday Dolan has been suspended pending hearings for him and Shoulders. Shoulders resigned from the force but the board has not officially accepted the resignation.

The Police Board president said the charges will be filed under police regulations. He said the hearings, which will be scheduled later would not be criminal proceedings.

Long declined to reveal the nature of the charges except that they would deal with the officers' actions in handling the kidnaping case here.

Punishment Varies

A police officer found guilty of violating regulations can be punished in various ways, ranging from a discharge to a rebuke.

Shoulders, in commenting on the development, said he had not been a policeman since Oct. 4. Reminded that his resignation had not been acted upon, he said:

"They stopped my pay and that's enough for me."

Dolan's only comment was:

"I don't know what it's all about"

The board's action came during a long inquiry into the missing $303,720, more than half the ransom paid to Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady by Robert C. Greenlease Sr. of Kansas City.

Prowler Flees After Attempt To Crack Safe

Merchant Policeman Fires Warning Shots At Man in Stag Bar

A would-be safecracker attempting to open a safe at the Stag Bar and Grill at 462 W. Center St. early this morning escaped by jumping through a plate glass window after Merchant Policeman Louis P. Brahn fired two shots at him.

Brahn told police he was making his rounds at the rear of the buildings about 4:50 a.m. when he looked through the rear door of the restaurant and saw a man stooped over the safe near the front of the building.

He quietly tried the door, found it was unlocked and stepped inside, Brahn said.

Fires Warning Shots

He then fired two warning shots at the burglar and told him to lie face down on the floor. Brahn then turned toward the rear door to call his wife from their apartment upstairs and tell her to phone police.

At this moment, the burglar, described only as standing about 5 feet, 11 inches tall, jumped up, kicked out a one-fourth inch thick plate glass window, dived through the opening, scrambled to his feet and ran west on W. Center St., Brahn told police.

Police Captain Justin Cornely said today that in their investigation of the case police found entrance was gained by prying open the rear door.

Works on Safe

Once inside the burglar apparently went straight to the small safe which is located under the bar near the front door and started working on it. Police Captain Clyde Hardin reported that two marks were found on a smaller wall type safe welded to the top of the larger safe, indicating there was an attempt to knock the small safe loose. Nothing else was bothered, he said.

Police found a set of tools left behind by the safecracker. Cornely said there were no finger prints on the safe or the tools and it has been established the burglar was wearing gloves.

Police also reported that one of the bullets fired by Brahn pierced another plate glass window at the front of the bar. They have been unable to find any trace of the second bullet.

Uninjured in Escape

Investigation indicated the burglar escaped without injuring himself when he broke out the window. Cornely said there were no traces of blood either on the pieces of glass or the sidewalk outside.

The Stag Bar and Grill is owned and operated by Joseph Spangler of the Lido Apartments.

Cornely, who is acting police chief while Police Chief Tom Coon is on vacation, said police are continuing their investigation.

World in Need Of New Faith, Marshall Says

Prime Necessity for Enduring Peace, Says U.S. General at Oslo

OSLO, Norway (AP)—Gen. George C. Marshall called today for a spiritual rebirth to establish anew good faith among men as a prime necessity for enduring world peace.

Such a regeneration, the 1953 Nobel Peace Prize winner declared in a lecture at Oslo University Festival Hall, should bring good will, faith and understanding among nations.

The 72-yearo-ld American soldier-statesman, honored for his sponsorship of America's 17 billion dollars Marshall Plan aid to postwar Europe, received his prize yesterday in the same hall. Tonight's lecture was required by the will of Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite, who left the money for the awards.

Marshall offered these suggestions for furthering the cause of peace, warning that they held nothing of glittering or early promise:

1. "A careful study of all factors" which have caused wars in the past and a striving "to determine the great fundamentals which must govern a peaceful progression toward a constantly higher level of civilization."

2. Study and understanding by peoples everywhere of the differences between national groups. He suggested that principles of cooperation based on these factors might contribute to a better understanding among all nations.

3. Solving the economic problem of the "millions who live under sub-normal conditions and who have now come to a realization that they may aspire to a fair share of the God-given rights of human beings."

"But perhaps the most important factor will be a spiritual regeneration to develop good will, faith and understanding among nations," he declared.

"And with all these," Marshall asserted, "there must be wisdom and the will to act on that wisdom."

French Pull Back

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The French announced today they have pulled their troops out of Vietminh-threatened Lai Chau, capital of the Thai tribal country in northwest Indochina, without firing a shot.

Announcement of the evacuation three days ago came after repeated French assertions Lai Chau would be staunchly defended against the Communist-led rebels.

Details Arranged

Jenner Preparing To Quiz Gouzenko

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Morris, counsel for the U. S. Senate internal security subcommittee, says former Russian code clerk Igor Gouzenko may tell the committee what he knows about Russian spying in this country "tomorrow or next week."

Gouzenko exposed a huge Soviet espionage ring in Canada in 1945 after walking out of the Russian Embassy in Ottawa with many secret documents.

Ready To Testify

Last night, Morris said he understood from newsmen who talked with Gouzenko somewhere in Ontario, Canada, that he was ready to testify "tomorrow or next week." The interview may be in Canada.

Morris said he talked by telephone late last night with Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), subcommittee head. Morris said Jenner told him he planned to get in touch with the State Department today to work out a date to see Gouzenko.

Under stipulations by the Canadian government, the date and meeting place will be kept secret for security reasons.

"We've scheduled no hearings of the subcommittee for this coming week," said Morris. "We're just standing by, ready to go."

Believes Rings Operating

Meanwhile, in Washington, Sen. McCarran (D-Nev), top-ranking Democrat on the international security subcommittee, said he thinks there still are spy rings in the government which Gouzenko can help track down.

Canadian authorities have said that all information already provided by Gouzenko has been made available to U. S. officials.

In an interview, McCarran said: "I regard Gouzenko as highly important to the internal security of the United States and Canada."

Gouzenko was questioned in late 1949 by reresentatives of a Senate immigration subcommittee headed by McCarran. It was investigating Communist activity among aliens and recent immigrants.

The record of the interview never has been published. McCarran said there were deletions he regards as "material" made by the State Department then.

O. J. Dekon, one of the immigration subcommittee staff members who questioned Gouzenko, said in a recent interview that he considered deletions in the transcript unimportant.

Face on Video Screen Spoils Their Viewing

BLUE POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Early in the century it was "the face on the barroom floor." But that was a fable.

The face on their television screen, the Travers family says, is not a fable, and they wish it would go away. It doesn't, though, even when the TV set is turned off. Here's their story:

The three pre-school-age Travers' children first saw the face—a woman with a fixed stare.

The youngsters lined up in front of the screen for a favorite morning program. They got the show, but 6-year-old Caroline ran to her mother, crying:

"We can't see it. A face is in the way."

Mrs. Jerry Travers indulgently investigated. One look and she turned pale. There was the face, staring out of the 17-inch screen even as the telecast went on.

The children got scared. They started to whimper. Mrs. Travers,

Windows at Postoffice To Remain Open Longer

To help Marion residents with their Christmas mailing, postage windows and other mailing facilities at the Marion postoffice will remain open until 4:30 p.m. Saturday, Postmaster Homer D. Cole announced today.

The postoffice normally closes at noon on Saturdays.

Cole said that while mailings at the postoffice are about normal right now, he expects the Christmas rush to begin early next week.

He also urged Marion residents to mail their Christmas cards and parcels to insure delivery before Dec. 25.

Hamilton Judge Lends Helping Hand to Santa

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Municipal Judge Frank F. Wessel gave Santa Claus a helping hand today by declaring a moratorium on the garnisheeing of wages from now until after Christmas.

"This is being done for the purpose of protecting the visit of Santa Claus to a large number of innocent children whose Christmas joy might be spoiled by the failure of the wage earner to provide the necessary funds," the judge said.

Mother of Red GI Told She Can't See Son

TOKYO (AP)—The mother of an American war prisoner who stayed with the Communists learned today that she cannot visit Korea in an effort to persuade her son to return home.

Mrs. Portia Howe of Alden, Minn., arrived by plane and conferred privately with Gen. John E. Hull. The supreme Allied commander announced that he had been "obliged to refuse permission" to Mrs. Howe to visit Korea.

Mrs. Howe's son by a previous marriage, Pfc. Richard F. Tennesson, is among 22 Americans who did not return home last summer.

"I have the deepest sympathy for Mrs. Howe and the utmost respect for her desire to effect the return of her son to his own country," Gen. Hull said in a statement. "But in view of previously announced U. S. Department of Defense policy in relation of the prisoner of war question, I am not authorized to permit her entry into Korea to see her son."

Hull said the Defense Department policy announced Sept. 30 opposes the idea of relatives talking with the balky prisoners.

Mrs. Howe walked smiling from the plane and told reporters:

"All I want is to present my son with a picture of America that he grew up in and his religious training. I am here with a conviction that what I want to do is right. I am here with a faith in God and a knowledge that millions are praying for me."

Just before she left Washington for Tokyo, she said she is convinced her son is a "victim of brainwashing and needs help."

The Far East Command has said it will be "happy to discuss problems and possibilities" with Mrs. Howe. But a spokesman for the command said this week he could give no hint as to whether she will be able to get into the Panmunjom neutral sector for a face-to-face meeting with her son.

Christmas Suggestion

Widow With 2 Children Needs Clothing and Food

This is one of a series describing families and individuals listed with "Give A Christmas" clearinghouse sponsored by the Junior Service Guild at the Salvation Army. Any organization or individual wishing to contribute may obtain the name of a needy family by calling the clearinghouse secretary at 3-2415 before Dec. 24.

A widow with two small children make up only one of many families whose Christmas this year will be a dreary one unless someone remembers them.

Mrs. S. as we shall call her, has no relatives and since she has been forced to move from place to place she has been unable to accumulate household belongings.

The youngest of her two daughters, age 15 months, just recently was returned to her home after a long hospitalization.

A Christmas tree with its gaily colored trimmings would brighten the season for the baby and her sister, aged two years, as well as for their mother. Toys for the girls also would add to their joy.

Supplies for a Christmas dinner would be appreciated. Since the family has no resource for clothing, all kinds of clothing could also be used by the family.

Store, Lions Club at Schulte's corner, 20-30 International Club at the Kresge Co. South Side Store and the Lions Club at the National City Bank Corner and the north side Kresge Co. store.

Harding, St. Mary Basketball Squads Take to Road

Prexies Seek Fifth Verdict In Columbus West Clash

In quest of its fifth straight victory of the season, Jim Lawler's Harding squad travels to Columbus tonight for a contest with the West Cowboys.

It will mark Harding's second game of the week, both against Columbus teams. The Presidents downed Columbus Aquinas Tuesday night in the new Harding auditorium-gymnasium.

Holds 2-3 Record

Columbus West will take a 2-3 mark into the tilt with Harding. The hosts have wins over Bexley and London, that by a 83-48 count Tuesday night. Losses have been to Columbus North, Newark 59-53, and Columbus South 66-54.

Graduation last year stripped the West team of most of the personnel responsible for its 12-8 season which included a 78-59 win over the Prexies here. Only lettermen back are two speedy guards, Jim Vincent, 5-9, and Ron Bowman, 5-7.

Remainder of the West starting lineup will be made up of Jerry Ruffner, 6-2½, at center; and Jim Pruden, 5-10, and Charlie Hicks, 6-1, at the forwards. All were on the varsity squad last year but played very little.

Coach Fred Heischman, in his first year as head coach at West, wishes Jerry Trabue, Earl Redman and Bob Thornton were back for another season. The trio, all standing near 6-4, were West's big guns last season.

High-scoring Trabue popped in 23 points against Harding last season while Redmen added 15 and Thornton eight. Vincent hit for 17 and Bowman seven.

Save Starters

Harding's starting lineup will probably have Bob Hamor, 5-11, and Doug Bibler, 5-7, at forwards; Dave Schnelker, 6-2, at center; and Ron Conroy, 5-8½, and Don Smith, 5-7, at the guard positions. Most of them played against West last season and will be gunning for revenge. Only Bill Smiley, Red Emmons and Andy Simon who appeared in the losing cause against the Cowboys are not back for another crack at West.

Conroy is currently pacing the Harding offensive attack which has accounted for victories over Bexley 61-47, Galion 72-56, Willard 96-35, and Columbus Aquinas 66-57. He has 70 points, 25 of which came when the locals set a new school scoring record against Willard. Bibler is next with 45 markers and is trailed in the scoring column by Hamor with 42, Schnelker with 35 and Smith with 27.

At Top Strength

With the exception of Joe Snouffer, Harding is at peak strength. He is recovering from a shoulder injury suffered during the football season but Lawler reports he probably will be ready for action next week.

Harding's Vice Presidents also go after their fifth straight. Probable starters for the Prexy futures are Lowell McFann and Dave Lockwood at forwards, Lowell Carlisle at center, and Harold Jones and Keith Thackery at guards.

The West squad, coached last season by George Williams, reportedly will use a man to man defense. Heischman, who had been an assistant for the past several seasons, took over the head coaching reigns at West when Williams retired after last year's season.

Morral Defeated By Baker Juniors

Scoring 14 points while holding the opposition to three, Morral Junior High made a fourth period bid for victory last night, but the effort wasn't good enough as Eber Baker walked off with a 42-37 win.

The win was Baker's second in as many starts.

Dick Dixon tallied 11 points to pace the winners. Ted Middleton came in for his share of the scoring honors by aiding the winning cause with 10 points.

Hensel of Morral was top scorer of the evening with 13.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

Mark Klug of 662½ E. Church St. has taken exception to a final football story from the wires of The Associated Press.

SHORT

The AP reported the 33-0 trimming handed Cincinnati Purcell by Dayton Chaminade as the Cincinnati team's worst defeat since Hamilton won 35-0 in 1941. It also was the first shutout suffered by the squad in 104 games.

Mr. Klug disputes the statement concerning the Hamilton win. The 1941 defeat at the hands of the Big Blue turned out to be a 1-0 victory for Purcell after Hamilton was found to have several ineligible players, Mr. Klug points out.

"I remember this game very well since I, like the rest of the team, took quite a shellacking," he concludes.

CLIMBING. Marion's Gordie Vejprava is working his way nearer the top of the International Hockey League scoring race.

Wednesday night he took over the lead in two departments when he led the Barons' to a 6-3 win over Troy. His three-goal hat trick gave him the lead in that department as well as in the number of goals scored, 21.

He went into the game tied with Toledo's Dick Pontarollo and Don Hall of Johnstown in the goals scored department with 18. Hall is also tied with Norm McAtee for the lead in assists. Both have 25. The two totals make Hall the undisputed point leader with 43.

Pontarollo's goals, however, have came at the most crucial times. Five times this season, he has shoved in the winning marker for the Mercurys.

Richwood Defeats Edison Junior High

Edison's Junior High cagers suffered their first reversal of the season in three starts yesterday when Richwood's junior notched a 48-36 victory on their floor.

Edison took the lead at the opening quarter, but fell behind as the winners outscored George Whitehead's crew in every following quarter.

Thompson with 20 points and Wood with 13 were the big guns for Richwood. Phil Sykes pumped in 22 points for Edison.

The locals entertain Kenton in their next game Thursday.

Bowling

The Nevada Furniture team of the Classic League posted the highest team single game ever rolled on the Palace Recreation alleys last night.

In its first game of the night, the team totaled 1,115.

Individual scores were E. Best's 199, R. Crispin's 175, G. Neider-Hauser's 266, T. Blair's 274 and W. Bennett's 201. Blair's single game and a 669 series paced the bowlers there. Other high series scores were a 648 by E. Schultz, 608 by K. Thome and 600 by H. Jacoby. A total of 27 games of 200 or over were rolled.

George Ulsh's 225 and John Kayatin's 602 led keglers in the Fraternal League at Marion Recreation. Team honors were copped by American Legion No. 1 with 880 and Moose No. 2 with 2,543.

Minnesota, Tulane Step Out Front in Basketball

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—Minnesota and Tulane, better known as football powers, clamored for national basketball attention today with three-game winning streaks and victories over the fourth and fifth-ranking teams in the country.

The Gophers from Minneapolis edged Oklahoma A&M, No. 4, 57-56 last night for the Aggies' first defeat, and Tulane tripped Kansas, voted No. 5 on the strength of being last season's NCAA runner-up, 69-65.

Both of the losers were playing away from home and it was the opening game of the winter for Phog Allen's Jayhawks.

The University of Louisville was charged with 42 fouls and lost a rough-and-tumble contest to Siena at Albany. N. Y., 78-71, its first defeat of the season.

Minnesota caught up with the Oklahomans after trailing by six points at the half. Buzz Bennett moved from his usual guard spot into the pivot in the second half to spark the Gophers' comeback. He scored 20 points.

At New Orleans Bobby Delpit, a 5-9 midget among the Giants, and Hal Cervini ignited a fourth-quarter rally that carried Tulane to victory.

Both Minnesota and Tulane are unbeaten in three games.

North Carolina State scored the first collegiate victory in four years over the Phillips 66 Oilers in a 67-65 double overtime thriller at Raleigh, N. C. Vic Molodet scored 15 for the college boys.

Dick Boushka, St. Louis University's brightest star since the days of Ed Macauley, broke his own school scoring record with 38 points as the Billikens whipped Alabama 82-68.

De Paul of Chicago ran its winning streak to five by swamping Manchester College of Indiana 82-59. Boston College won its fourth in a row, 62-47, over Stonehill.

Temple, beaten only by Kentucky, outclassed Lehigh 60-48.

Notre Dame used its full 13-man squad in a 72-45 romp over the University of Detroit. The University of Oregon waltzed over Portland 92-73.

House of David Plays Saturday At Green Camp

Plans have been completed for the basketball twin bill featuring the famed House of David team which is scheduled Saturday night on the Green Camp High School gymnasium floor.

The card opens at 7:30 p.m. with a strong Pythian Drugs crew from Columbus tangling with a team composed of Marion County Coaches. The House of David Team is matched with the Green Camp Elevator five in the nightcap.

A capacity crowd is expected to watch the local Green Camp team take on the House of David crew led by seven feet high center "Moose" Gordon and the county coaches, representing nearly all the county schools, take on the visiting Columbus squad.

County Hunters Preparing for Deer Shooting

Deer permits for the season which opens next Thursday are now available in Marion and two county communities, O. H. Neimeyer of Prospect, game protector, announced.

The permits costing $5 are being sold at Hinton's and Vance Sporting Goods stores in Marion and at Harry Lauer's Clothing Store in Prospect and at Howard Bailey's Hardware Store in LaRue.

Neimeyer explained that counties in this vicinity were not open for deer hunting. Closest counties open are Ashland, Knox and Licking. He said more than 40 counties in the northeastern and southeastern portion of Ohio were open.

Neimeyer said today he expected a large number of hunters to turn out for the three-day season. He based his claim on the number of calls received from hunters in the county who asked when and where they could obtain the permits.

The game protector today explained some of the pertinent hunting observances. He explained that servicemen home on furlough do not need a hunting license but only a deer permit to hunt the animals. Other persons must also have a hunting license in addition to the deer permit.

Hunters are allowed one deer for the season which runs for three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, next week. Hunting hours are from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Deer season for bow and arrow hunters also opens next Thursday but extends to Jan. 1. He explained that barbless arrows and a bow with 40-pound pull must be used in hunting deer.

Neimeyer also noted that Saturday marks the final day for duck and geese hunting. The rabbit and grouse season closes on Jan. 1 while the trapping season for fur bearing animals extends to Jan. 31, he said.

Bucyrus To Meet Traditional Rivals

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS—Bucyrus High's Redmen play their third home game in a week tonight when they entertain Galion, their traditional Crawford County rivals, in a non-league game.

The Redmen bounced back Tuesday night to rout Tiffin Columbian 55 31 after dropping their opener last Friday night to Port Clinton 50-46, Galion was walloped 72-38 by Marion Harding in its opener and last week was whipped by Shelby, 73-48.

Leading the Bucyrus offense is Glen Butterman, only regular back from last year's quintet. He has scored 43 points in two games.

Tonight's game will be the last home contest for the Redmen until Jan. 12 when they play Kenton.

Irish Battle at Mt. Gilead In Search of Second Win

St. Mary seeks its second straight victory of the infant basketball season tonight at Mt. Gilead in a match with Les Grace's Indians.

The Irish tilt will mark both teams' Mid-Ohio Conference opener and second game of the season. The first of two meetings this season, the game was originally set as a non-league encounter but changed since the locals had the home game in football this year.

Both Won Openers

While the locals carry a 55-50 win over Carey into the fray, Mt. Gilead opened its season with a 60-48 win over Crestline Tuesday. According to Coach Grace. "If we don't get killed off in the first part of the season, we'll have a good season." He was referring to the first part of the Indians' schedule which includes games with top teams in this area.

The locals will be giving away a definite height advantage. Three starters reach six feet while two other players on the squad reach that mark.

Coach Grace's starting lineup will probably have Ted Moody, 5-10, the lone returning regular and captain, paired with Phil Schrader, 5-8, at forwards; John Bachelder, 6-4½, at center; and Dick Zolman, 6-1, and John Staley, 6-0, at guards.

Mosher Doubtful

John Mosher is a doubtful starter. After scoring six points for the Indians in one quarter of the Crestline tilt, he became sick from the effects of a bad cold and had to be removed from the game. Schrader, his replacement, dropped in 12 points.

The Mt. Gilead coach plans to use either Schrader or Larry White, 6-0, in Mosher's place if the latter hasn't recovered. However, White, a letterman, is still shaking off the effects of a shoulder separation he suffered in the football game with the Irish.

Grace also has Eddie Osborn, 6-2½, available for action. He saw some action in the opener with Crestline but didn't score. Moody paced the Indian attack with 19 markers. Zolman came in with 10 while Bachelder garnered seven and Staley added six.

In his third year at the helm of Mt. Gilead, Grace's cagers posted a 7-13 mark in his first year there. Mt. Gilead's futures will be bidding for their second win of the season. They downed Crestline's JVs 53-37 in the opener.

St. Mary's starting lineup will have either Larry Ryan, 5-10½, or Jack McNamara, 6-1, at center; Jack O'Keefe, 5-10½, at forward; and Mike Anderson, 5-11, Roger Micheli, 5-10, and Jerry Ballenger, 5-7, playing outside. O'Keefe and McNamara or Ryan will be playing the double pivot.

Butch Merchant and John Messenger are also counted on by Ray for service tonight. In the opener with Carey, Anderson, last season's leading Irish scorer, and Micheli were the big guns. Each had 19 points.

Woody Hayes To Speak At Upper Grid Banquet

UPPER SANDUSKY — Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes will be the main speaker at the annual varsity "U" football banquet at Upper Sandusky High School next Thursday night, Earl Shafer, athletic director, announced today.

Letters and awards will be presented to members of the squad, and Co-Captains-Elect Bob Graham and Bill Stephens will be introduced.

Rev. Andrew Kolarovsky of the First Lutheran Church of Upper Sandusky will be the master of ceremonies.

Led by the state's top scorer, Dave Kuenzli, and all-state guard Keith Quail, the Rams posted a 7-2 record and finished third in the Northern Ohio League.

City Workers Find Old Rumor Is True

WEISER, Idaho (AP)—City employes decided yesterday to check on the oft-repeated story that there was a message inside the big aluminum ball atop the Weiser flag pole.

The pole was knocked down and broken in half by a truck about two months ago.

Employes who cracked the 18-inch ball open found a copy of the local newspaper, the Weiser Signal-American, dated 1918.

The late John Smith, the tinsmith who made the ball, had placed the newspaper there along with a pungent handwritten comment on the local politics of his time:

"Frank Harris has left the Democratic party and the party has now gone to hell."

Holiday Program Set Up at YMCA

A special six-day holiday program for eight-year-old youths has been set up at the YMCA, Marvin Ludwig, youth director, announced today. The program will be open three days for both members and non-members. The other three days will be open to members only.

The days for both members and non-members to participate are Dec. 21, 22, and 23. On Dec. 28, 29, and 30, only members will be eligible to take part in the program.

A full slate of activities is arranged for those who attend the special program. Activities last from 9 a.m. to noon on the six days. Included are swimming, handicraft, small and large group games, movies, trips, stories, and hikes.

Carol Sparks will be the leader of all girls groups, and Dean Ludwig will handle the boys. Each group will consist of not more than 20 children. In addition to this special morning program, the regular afternoon schedule of activities will continue.

Explosion Adds Realism To Lecture on H-Bombs

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Dr. Richard P. Smith was telling his class on the atom and hydrogen bombs what the weapons will do.

Just as he was emphasizing the tremendous explosive power of the two bombs, a window-shattering blast rocked the lecture room.

The explosion, it was learned later, resulted from a freshman student's experiment in a chemistry laboratory upstairs.

Woman Keeps Package 10 Years in Risky Spot

NAMPA, Idaho (AP)—A lady called up City Hall yesterday to ask for advice about a package left in her home 10 years ago by a guest who once worked in a Colorado mine.

GE Will Deal Harshly With Subversives

NEW YORK (AP)—The announced determination of huge General Electric Co., to sweep from its payroll anyone guilty of an unpatriotic act, last night evoked criticism, some approval and some attack.

At Washington, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R—Wis), head of the Senate investigations subcommittee which has recently been probing alleged espionage leaks at GE plants, said the firm "certainly should be complimented" on its detailed policy announcement.

The CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, issued a statement saying the policy does not go far enough against the rival Independent United Electrical Workers which was ousted from the CIO because of alleged Communist leadership.

Two GE workers who were suspended by the company Nov. 19 after being accused of communism said GE intends "to create a reign of terror."

In a nutshell, the GE statement yesterday said any of its 230,000 employes who admit to communism, espionage or sabotage at a public hearing of an investigating agency will be fired, and that any employe who declines to give testimony will be suspended with pay for 90 days so that an investigation can be made.

The firm said further it felt present loyalty standards set up by the federal government are inadequate and asked the government to designate some appeals agency to pass on the loyalty of suspended workers.

Atomic Construction

President Eisenhower's new approach to mutual security in the atomic age has a tremendous appeal to constructive imagination.

It offsets some of the destructive imagination which conceived the atomic bomb and brought it to a climax at Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945.

Americans are uniquely qualified to speak of this matter. Their government has been the only one so far to make the awful decision to wage atomic warfare.

There can be no doubt that the majority of his countrymen will stand behind the President's proposal. He wants the United Nations to become the trustee of an international stockpile of fissionable material to be used for constructive research.

Here is no far-fetched plan of atomic disarmament doomed to failure because it demands more of men than they can be expected to do. This is merely a proposal to offset atomic destruction with a parallel program of atomic construction.

To deny its logic would be like refusing to recognize that dynamite—one the ultimate force of destruction—has had a vital role in men's efforts to raise living standards.

Alfred Nobel, who developed dynamite, offset its use in war with the Nobel awards for contributions to men's culture and peaceful existence.

President Eisenhower proposal that the governments which possess fissionable material should divert a fraction of it into an international pool for the common welfare is Alfred Nobel's plan magnified a thousand times.

No nation would be asked to give up anything—only to add something. There would be no interference with military security.

There would be, of course, something more powerful than atomic bombs, if the plan worked. There would be a demonstration of international cooperation for all the people of the world to see.

That is why the Eisenhower proposal appeals to the constructive imaginations of all men not yet ready to give up their hopes of cooperative security in bitter despair over their disappointments since the end of World War II.

New Idea Department

A random inquiry by a business columnist, Lou Schneider, might lead to an official study of the monetary system of the United States.

Schneider wants to know why it wouldn't be a good idea for the U. S. Treasury to issue an entirely new print of paper currency at frequent intervals—say every three years.

Each new print would have a distinctive design, or perhaps a distinctive color. Since it would be given by banks in exchange for the old print, there would be an automatic roundup of counterfeit currency, hoarded money, income on which taxes had been evaded and money extorted by kidnapers.

Since the Treasury is continuously issuing new currency for old in any event, there would be no huge net increase of costs if it were to issue currency of new design at frequent intervals.

The last time there was a currency housecleaning, the size of all bills was reduced. That was too drastic a step to be taken more than once in a generation. But nobody would object if the color of the currency were to change every few years and thereby necessitate an exchange of old for new issues—nobody, that is, but tax evaders, hoarders, counterfeiters, kidnapers and robbers.

The Greater Good

One fact about Harrison County's defiance of the federal Social Security Administration stands out like a sore thumb with a splint on it.

Harrison County officials who made the fateful decision to declare their independence of Washington bureaucracy are receiving plenty of offers to hold their coats while they fight for a principle.

But no other group of county officials has volunteered to stand beside them in this lopsided issue between one tiny unit of government and the federal juggernaut.

On the contrary, Harrison County officials are being reminded by realists they have no right to persist in an attitude which might cut off certain relief funds from 87 other counties eager to accept federal funds and all the red tape and leading strings that go with them.

They are being reminded that this is a case of the greater good for the greater number and that eventually they will have to knuckle under to keep themselves from being unpopular with the other counties of Ohio.

This, of course, assumes that the federal government has a God-given right to make Harrison County officials do something they don't want to do. If anyone has that right, it would be the state government, not the federal government.

If one other county would line up with Harrison, even the state government would hesitate to order it back into line. If 87 counties would line up, Ohio would have to take this issue to the U.S. Supreme Court, where it belongs.

Can a bureaucrat in Washington make local government accept money it is unwilling to take on the bureaucrat's terms?

GOP Morale Ebbing

Eisenhower Blamed for Party's Internal Strife

Disaffection inside the Republican party is growing rapidly. Some observers are saying that, if the congressional elections were held today, President Eisenhower would receive the shock of his career—the Democrats would get control of both houses.

While Mr. Eisenhower is himself popular, as all the polls show, he, no more than any other president in the past, can transfer his strength to the party candidates in a congressional election in mid-term.

THE SPECIAL ELECTIONS in Wisconsin and New Jersey showed that still to be true.

Evidence of the silence inside the Republican party comes to the surface in conversations with Republican members of Congress, who fear that Republican voters in large enough numbers will stay away from the polls, as they did in New Jersey and Wisconsin, to forfeit the election.

Typical of the expressions heard privately is the comment made by representative Will E. Neal, Republican, of West Virginia, who has written a letter to all the Republican members of the House or Representatives complaniing about the fact that, while the people voted for a change from the Truman regime, they are not getting it.

MR. NEAL'S letter follows:

"To my Republican colleagues:

"Do you remember my letter of September 1, 1953, calling your attention to the manner in which the present Republican administration's conduct of affairs is being usurped by a third, or 'government,' party?

"If you did not believe it then, I am sure you no longer have doubts about it, especially those of you who have been in touch with your constituents as I have been with mine.

"Republican partisans have lost all interest. The Democrats who worked with us have lost hope and are disillusioned. Members of the 'third party' and their friends are giving us the 'horse laugh.'

"Unless we are willing to remain quiet and take defeat by default, so to speak, we had better stiffen our spines and demand of the only man who has the traditional authority to do so that he break the stranglehold, which, if allowed to continue, will forever destroy the American two-party system.

"It will take a presidential decree. Nothing else will suffice. The American people are demanding it, and it will be warmly applauded by most of our citizens not employed in the third party. The President must be told how we feel.

"Now, how shall we do it?"

WALTER S. HALLANAN, formerly chairman of the Republican National Committee and still its member form West Virginia, said in a letter to this correspondent:

"Certainly Congressman Neal does not exaggerate the situation in any respect. The feeling of discouragement among the rank and file of Republicans is most disheartening."

The disappointment inside the Republican party is due primarily to the indifference of the President toward his own party. He is represented as feeling that he cannot root out the Truman appointees. His man on the Civil Service Commission, Philip Young, votes with the Democrats to keep in policy-making positions certain officials who came into the last administration on a political basis and are devoted to the policies of the previous regime.

THIS CRITICISM of the failure of the President to stand up for his party is spreading throughout the country among the workers, and the fear is that their zeal and enthusiasm in coming elections will be lost.

Political parties depend on organization even more in congressional years than in presidential years.

The administration has been very slow in bringing about the changes that members of Congress, for example, have been talking about. Most of the adverse comments have been given in private thus far, but they now are breaking out into the open.

Mr. Eisenhower's blunder in alienating a substantial number of Republican voters by approving the statement issued by Secretary Dulles condoning trade with Red China by our allies — a statement, incidentally, that the other members of the Cabinet knew nothing about in advance — has only served to add fuel to the flames.

THE FEUDING started inside the Republican party when the President made his fight against Chairman Reed of the House Ways and Means Committee last spring, and there has been a gradual accumulation of grievances, so that it is an understatement to say the party is merely faced with the customary differences of opinion. Its morale is in a state of rapid disintegration.

On an Even Keel

By TRUMAN TWILL

Latest of the college prexies to worry out loud about education is Dr. A. Blair Knapp of Denison University.

He blames vocationalism in high schools for the fact colleges keep getting so many freshmen who haven't the vaguest idea what to expect from higher education. As far as these addledursters are concerned, the only real education they're likely to absorb will be what rubs off on them by accident.

They lack what Dr. Knapp calls "adequate motivation." They have no fixed purpose—no goal. They are drifting. They never have organized their resources. Many cannot read and write their own language well enough to receive and convey clear thoughts.

But unlike some educators who deplore these things, Dr. Knapp has a suggestion for imporvement. He would separate bona fide students from people who merely want to go to college to pass the time away and concentrate on the students. He would let vocational schools go to work without interference on the job of teaching vocations and do likewise for the liberal arts schools.

All the square pegs would be put into the square holes.

Men are born equal under the law, in other words, but they are not born with equal abilities to assimilate higher education. Some of them, moreover, are willing to make greater sacrifices than others to make the most of their abilities.

When the U. S. Air Force is choosing young men for its ranks it tests their aptitudes. Not all of them are cut out to be pilots. Some are better suited for desk work. Some are natural mechanics and so on. Men cut out to be pilots may still fall short if they are unwilling to work at it.

Some young Americans are cut out to be teachers. Some will do better at preaching. Some will be willing and able to sacrifice the time and make the effort to be doctors. Some will end up as paleontologists, research chemists, sociologists, physicists, mathemeticians. It takes all kinds to make a world.

It takes salesmen, foremen, welders, comedians, technicians and people who can move pianos. It takes singers, dancers, sign painters, window washers, steel men, carpenters, plumbers, electricians and truck drivers.

It also takes all the combinations that can be figured out—cab drivers who are doctors of philosophy, statesmen who are painters, comedians who want to play Hamlet and tragedians who want to play the Palace.

Some of this can be learned by the vocational approach to education, some must be learned by the liberal arts, approach, some by going through professional schools—and a lot can be learned only by hard knocks.

But catch-as-catch-can, it must be learned. What Dr. Knapp is talking about and the thing worrying other educators is how to keep the liberal arts college free to do what they are supposed to do, which is to provide for willing students a working background of education and culture for the hard core of intellectual stability which keeps civilization on an even keel.

Daily Bible Thought

"For to you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour who is Christ the Lord."—Luke 2:11. Those who make him the lord of their lives are saved indeed from sin and shame. He showed us the Way and walked in that way to make it doubly plain.

There is this to be said for the popular new form of headgear for the motorist—it's easier to wipe the windshield with a beret than with a derby.

Controversy Rages Over Public Domain

By Raymond Moley

Last week, at what was called the Mid-Century Conference on Resources for the Future, Judge Robert W. Sawyer and Congressman Wesley A. D'Ewart of Montana staged a most enlightening discussion on the highly controversial question of the control of the public lands.

Judge Sawyer, of Bend, Ore., is a former president of the National Reclamation Association, and although he is a strong conservationist, he is nevertheless a potent opponent of the extension through the federal government of public electric power ownership and control.

IN THIS discussion of the control of the public domain, he just as forcefully opposes the current claims of the states and private interests to a part or all of the lands in the public domain.

In his address last week Judge Sawyer defined the public domain lands as the 180 million acres owned by the federal government which are not included in the national forests or other federal holdings.

These are, he says, "The plain acres that the traveler sees below or around him as he crosses the West by plane, or train or motor. . . They are the skimmed remainder of Uncle Sam's real estate. . . the acres left over, to which no one wanted title in the years when homesteading was in its heyday."

THOSE LANDS are under the jurisdiction of the Bureau of Land Management of the Department of the Interior. One hundred forty million of the acres are managed under the Taylor Grazing Act of 1934.

These lands are used in several ways. Grazing is a major use, but some timber is available. There is also a value for recreation and for the fostering of wild life.

The major value of this vast area, however, according to Sawyer, is the conservation of the scanty water supply of the great West.

In the course of time this domain has been greatly abused. In the beginning, says Sawyer, there was no control "except the man standing by the water hole with a Winchester." There was shameful overgrazing.

THERE WAS erosion because of the quick runoff. Streams dried up. Brush and noxious weeds succeeded grass.

Finally, in 1934 the Taylor Grazing Act was passed. But the pressure of private greed combined with bureaucratic incompetence and neglect has been so great that the Taylor Act has never been adequately implemented.

Appropriations for control have been held down, and the result, according to Sawyer, is that the private users have the upper hand. "Private profit rather than public service use predominates."

When I heard this recital of neglect by Sawyer, my mind ran back to "The Secret Diary of Harold L. Ickes," which I had just read, for Ickes was secretary of the interior when the Taylor Act was passed and for years after.

HE WAS apparently so busy tending to things that were none of his business and building up the power of his department in the field of electric energy that he seemed to have had no time for the protection of the properties of which his department was already the legitimate custodian. That is very often the way with reforming bureaucrats.

Judge Sawyer believes that the control of the federal government over these lands is indispensable, that it should be reasserted, and that more should be done for its conservation.

Congressman D'Ewart just as vigorously believes that control should gradually be returned to the states and to private users. He cites the extent to which his own state, Montana, has built up agencies of government to control and regulate public lands.

THE CONGRESSMAN also cites the message sent to Congress in July by President Eisenhower as authority for his position.

My own examination of that message leaves me in some doubt as to where the President does stand on the question, beyond his assertion that conservation is good, and that there should be cooperative planing action by state and local interests, presumably with the federal government as a partner.

These are the major points behind a controversy that is bound to develop some heat in the next session of Congress.

Movies in Switzerland

By LAURA LEE

LUCERNE

American tourists in Switzerland get the surprise of their lives when they try to take their children to the movies.

"Is finis," in the words of Max Frikart, manager of Cinema Modern, Lucerne's best movie house—it is finished before it starts because children under 18 years of age are not allowed to go to the movies. It makes no difference that they have their parents' consent or are accompanied by the parents. The law of Switzerland says children are banned and that applies to all children, visitors as well as natives.

"It is for the protection of young minds."

SWITZERLAND, a federation of 22 cantons, has 22 separate censor boards, one for each state. Some, like the censors in Lucerne, are very strict, others not. Those that are "easy," as in Zurich, for example, allow young people to go to the movies at the tender age of 16. You can imagine the shock to foreign teen-age visitors at being barred.

While parents are said to be more than satisfied to have the juvenile movie problem settled so easily for them by outsiders, American distributors of Hollywood films are bothered and bewildered, but far from bewitched. They cannot reconcile themselves to the tiny percentage of Switzerland's 4,000,000 population who are allowed in the theaters.

The producers of special pictures with a wide appeal to children may request permision to have the age limit dropped in these cases and sometimes it is granted. For instance, 12-year-olds were allowed to see "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," as well as the "Lassie" pictures.

TINY TOTS may not be able to see him, but in Switzerland they know who "Micky Maus" is—perhaps they have Mickey Mouse recordings for their automatic record-changers—"plattenspieler mit pic-up."

However, they are at no loss for entertainment in this little lake - and - mountain paradise, though some parents admit it makes them shudder to watch four- and five-year-old children skate, ski and swim.

Aside from sports, the movies have little competition for adults. In Lucerne, with a population of 62,000, the eight movie houses show 400 pictures a year. Occasionally, a Swiss or German repertory company visits the town's one theater; there is one night club, open only in the summer, and the Kursaal Casino, also open in the summer. Limit on bets in the casino is about 50 cents. There is no television, so the movie box office, though on the decline, is still good.

About 50 per cent of the pictures shown are Hollywood-made. The Swiss like French films next, and German output is in third place. Italian and British are tied for fourth.

Even though they have not been seen often lately in new pictures, the favorite stars are the more intelligent old-timers—Bette Davis, Ingrid Bergman, Greer Garson and Spencer Tracy. Not only fans, but two theater managers, said they had never heard of Marilyn Monroe.

Letters From Our Readers

To The Star:

I have been pondering the much discussed question of an elevator in the courthouse and have decided on a plan whereby it could be done without a levy on our already too high taxes. It is for those who really feel it is needed to install it and put a meter in it, say for 5 or 10 cents. Then those who are too tired or not able to walk up those two short flights of steps can pay to ride the elevator.

I am sure if I had to walk up when I didn't feel like it I would be glad to pay to ride. Just my idea.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The More Abundant Life

It will soon be possible for a man to leave the home on which he owes money, jump into the car on which he must make 10 more payments, stop to see a repairman about the video set he has bought on time and hurry to his brokerage office to buy some stocks on the installment plan.

The New York Stock Exchange has approved a time-payment system for investments. It will enable any man, regardless of his economic position (or nearly so), to buy stocks on the installment plan just as he can now buy anything from a suit of clothes or an electric icebox to a country home or houseboat.

The idea of giving the fellow in the lower income group the same chance that a moneyed man has to invest in du Pont, A.T.&T. or Standard of New Jersey is fair enough.

It could work out wonderfully. But it certainly rips the skin off the ancient American traditions of thrift, caution and the determination never to give the sheriff an even break.

We can see Ben Franklin turning over in his grave as he tears up his famous adages and sees the picture of Americans, already up to their necks in debt, hastening to the stock market to see how many more payments they will have to make before they own their nervous strain outright.

The Stock Exchange plan represents careful planning and it permits a man of small income to invest in high-grade securities with no matter of "margins" hanging over his head and no chance of being "sold out." He can pay as little as $40 every three months and obtain certain safety advantages never before possible.

He might be wiser to go in debt for a share in some of America's top industries than to do so for certain luxuries. Nevertheless, it adds to the general picture of the American people living on higher levels than they can afford and expecting all the super-dooper opportunities on the cafeteria plan.

It could start many a heated argument in the American home with the thrifty (whodat) wife insisting that they are in hock to a satisfying degree while the husband contends that, even if they owe for the mink coat, the TV set, the ranch house, the beach wagon, the speedboat, the power mower, the furniture, the deep-freeze unit, the baby's crib, the dog food and the seaside cabin, the smart thing to do is to get aboard U.S. Steel, N.Y. Central American Tobacco or Consolidated Gas on a small down payment.

The pay-as-you-enter plan in the stock market begins January 25. Here's success to both the brokers and the customers! We are within eight months of a receipt of our sport cruiser, mountain villa, time-payment ocean cruise, diamond-studded sack suit, etc., and probably will be in line in front of our broker's office, rainbow in leash and wearing rose-colored glasses front and rear.

Man is like that. This is a new era. Time (payment) marches on!

Secretary Dulles says we mustn't speak sharply to our allies and should keep a civil tongue in our heads at all times. Somehow a lot of Americans always thought that when an ally was sending war supplies to a nation slaughtering their sons, it was okay to talk turkey and not mince words.

TEN YEARS AGO — It was Saturday, Dec. 11, 1943.

Will Hit 2 Per Cent

Social Security Tax Rate Will Increase in January

The social security tax rate for persons whose work counts toward old-age and survivors insurance is scheduled to increase on the first of January, Paul D. Snider, manager of the Marion social security office reminded employers, employes, and self-employed people today.

This scheduled increase in tax contributions is in accordance with the 1950 amendments to the social security law, and was enacted by Congress in anticipation of future obligations of the program.

Employes in jobs covered by the law will have 2 per cent instead of the present 1½ percent deducted from their pay, beginning with the first of January, up to earnings of $3600 a year. Their employers will contribute an equal amount.

The new rates will apply to all taxable wages paid after Dec. 31, 1953, regardless of when earned.

The social security tax for the self-employed is scheduled to increase from the present 2¼ per cent to 3 per cent, for the period commencing Jan. 1, 1954. Since the self-employed whose work is covered by the law pay their tax just once yearly at the time of filing their federal income tax return, they will pay the present 2¼ per cent social security tax on their 1953 income that counts toward social security. This will be due not later than March 15, 1954. Their first payments at the increased rate of 3 per cent will be due March 15, 1955, for the calendar year 1954.

In the meantime, the Internal Revenue Service reports that employers will be furnished with income tax withholding tables and Federal Insurance Contributions Act (social security taxes) tables reflecting rates applicable next year.

The next scheduled increase, six years from now, in 1960, will be to 2½ per cent each for employer and employe, and to 3¾ per cent for the self-employed.

The social security office in Marion is located at 127 W. Church St. The office is open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Ex-Marine Admits He Stole Woman's Purse

CINCINNATI (AP) — A 35-year-old former Marine admitted to police last night he stole Mrs. Lillie Dees' purse Tuesday night but he said it contained only $17 and not $2,800.

Mrs. Dees, 36, reported to police Wednesday she and her husband took $2,800 which she had saved over a period of 10 years and then "blacked out" after stopping at several places for a few bottles of beer.

When she was revived at General Hospital her purse and money were gone. A waitress in a chili parlor where Mrs. Dees was found said she saw a man put the purse under his coat and walk out.

The ex-Marine gave his name as James Eldridge.

Eldridge told the officers he had been AWOL from the Marines since 1940.

Bus Strike Tossed Into Businessmen's Laps at Zanesville

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—With the Christmas shopping rush reaching its peak, the merchants of Zanesville have a touchy problem: It may be up to them whether or not there will be a bus strike.

Local 637, AFL teamsters union, yesterday made an unusual offer. The 40 drivers and 13 mechanics of Zanesville Rapid Transit Co. won't go on strike if the merchant agree to underwrite a wage increase for them.

The union wants an 11-cent an hour increase. The company offers four. If ZRT meets the union demand, it will lose between $15,000 and $ 20,000 a year, spokesmen said.

After both sides failed to agree at a meeting with a federal mediator yesterday—the company boosting its offer from three cents and the union lowering its from 25—Lewis Jones, Local 637 secretary-treasurer, approached the Chamber of Commerce with a deal.

Get the merchants to make up the money the company would lose by meeting the union's demand, he suggested to William M. Corry, the chamber's managing director.

Corry arranged a businessmen's meeting for Monday. If the merchants don't agree, the union plans to strike after the last run Monday night. The union had planned to strike last night but decided to hold up until after the merchants' meeting.

Drivers now get $1.37 an hour, mechanics $1.60.

Doolittle also was elected to the office of vice president of the club filling a vacancy created by the resignation of James Thomas.

A report was given on funds realized from a recent talent show which will be used to purchase YMCA membership cards. Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 16.

George Washington Students Present Program for PTA

A Christmas tea and program entertained the George Washington PTA Tuesday afternoon at the school. Arrangements were in charge of the sixth grade teachers, Mrs. Estella Lloyd, Miss Wanda McMahan and Mrs. Dorothea Thomas, and hostesses were sixth grade room mothers, Mrs. A. L. Beach, Mrs. Sarah Duerson, Mrs. D. F. Leonhart, Mrs. E. V. Shoup, Mrs. Richard Langdon and Mrs. Sheldon Dodds, and the sixth grade students.

Devotions were by Bonnie Harmon. A violin ensemble directed by Homer Huffman and vocal numbers by sixth grade pupils opened the program, which was anuonnced by Joan Merchant. A flute solo, "Cantique Noel," by Janet McCombs was followed by a story, "The Small One," by Mrs. John Dugan. Pupils of the sixth grade who are members of the band played an instrumental number directed by Mrs. John Salisbury.

Tea was served from a table covered with a green cloth and decorated with an arrangement of red candles, a snowman and greenery. Presiding were Mrs. Dorothy Thomas and Mrs. Robert McCombs. Refreshments were provided by the Sixth Grade mothers. Music was furnished by the pupils during the social hour.

The next meeting will be in January.

Police Report Five Accidents On City Streets

Stolen Car Involved In One; Pedestrian Injured in Another

One person was injured in one of five traffic accidents reported today by city police. No accidents in Marion County were reported by state patrolmen.

One of the accidents involved a car stolen earlier from the Kroger parking lot. At 10:30 Thursday night, Robert S. Baughman of near Marion reported to police that his car had been stolen from the lot.

At the same time, an accident was reported at corner of Woodrow Ave. and Uncapher Ave. When police investigated, they found the car involved was the one reported stolen. Whoever was driving the vehicle apparently lost control when attempting to make a right turn onto Woodrow Ave. after heading north on Uncapher Ave.

Driver missing

The car had struck a tree on the northeast corner and the driver left the scene of the accident.

A pedestrian, Miss Helen Kramer of 402 S. State St. received bruises of the right ankle and left elbow when she was struck by a car at S. Main and Church St. at 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Police reports show the driver of the car was Mrs. Mary Tobin of 905 Sheridan Rd. The reports indicate she was headed south on S. Main St. and attempted to make a right turn when she struck Miss Kramer. Miss Kramer was not taken to the hospital, but a physican was called to treat her injuries.

3-Car Accident

A three-car accident was reported at 10:03 p.m. in front of 117 S. Main St. A car driven by Gladys M. Rasey of 212 Nye St. struck a truck going south on the street and driven by Woodrow W. Anderson, 41, of Toledo, then struck another car owned by William J. Douglas, 53, of 288 E. Center St.

Police reports show the Rasey car had pulled from the curb, striking the rear tire of the truck. The impact threw her car into the other car. Damage was reported to left front fender and door of the Rasey car and to the left rear fender and tire of the parked car. No damage was done to the truck.

Autos Collide

Cars driven by Mrs. Mae P. Frazier of 871 Mt. Vernon Ave. and Thomas L. Warren, 18, of near Marion were damaged in an accident at 3:25 p.m. in front of 660 Bellefontaine Ave. The rear of Mrs. Frazier's car and the front and grille of Warren's car were damaged.

At 8:57 Thursday morning, cars driven by Harold W. Williams, 41, of Woodbine Ave. and James A. Dickson, 42, of 620 Delaware Ave. were involved in a collision at Bellefontaine Ave. and Woodrow Ave. The left front of Williams' car was damaged as was the right front of the Dickson car.

Coykendall pleaded not guilty at a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court but Walker waived the hearing.

They are charged by city police with the theft of $125 worth of goods from the Millard Hunt Co. on Nov. 9.

In addition, Walker was also charged with the theft of $150 worth of goods on Oct. 24 from a home being constructed on Chatfield Rd. The two were arrested last month after a three-week investigation by police.

$30,350 Damages Sought in Accident

An automobile accident occurring a year ago in Marion is the basis of a $30,350 damage suit filed Thursday in Common Pleas Court by a Bucyrus man.

Ralph J. Bartram asks the damages from Roy B. DePew Jr., of 663 E. Center St. Bertram alleges DePew was the driver of an automobile which struck his car on Dec. 21, 1952 on N. Main St. while Bartram was stopped for a red traffic light.

Bartram's petition alleges force of the collision "threw the plaintiff's automobile forward with a jerking motion," causing injury to his neck and back which has prevented him from performing his usual tasks.

Counsel for Bartram are the law firms of Myers and Spurlock of Bucyrus and Moore and Myers of Marion.

Farmers' Day Observed by Kiwanis Club

Vice President of Ohio Farm Bureau Talks At Luncheon Meeting

Farmers' Day was observed at the Thursday meeting of the Kiwanis Club at Hotel Harding. Eleven farmers from the county were guests of the club. Main speaker was C. Maurice Wieting, vice pesident of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Wieting spoke about farm problems today. He said the main problem in America was surplus, not starvation.

He asserted this country should export some of its farmiing know-how rather than just the products of that knowledge. He said the government should have very little control oyer labor, farmers or businessmen.

Wieting discussed the problem of decrease of the number of persons on the farms in America. He pointed out there were 25 million faramers to supply the food for 160 million persons. There are about 4,000,000 farms in the country.

It costs an average man from $45,000 to $50,000 to go into the farming business today, he said. Farm income has decreased during the year, and boys and girls are leaving the farms to move into city jobs, adding to the decrease in the number of farmers. The average age of the American farmer is now 48. He called the situation serious and said steps should be taken to counteract the trend toward the city.

Wieting said Marion County was an ideal place for farming. It is close to good markets, and the crops are varied. There are about 1,500 farmers in the county, he added.

Guest farmers at the meeting were Gordon Eichhorn, Paul Dasher, Richard Lawrence, Roy Loudenslager, James Johnson, Vernon Beaver, Merle Lashey, Ralph Beam Everett Douce, Troy DeLong and Robert Heimlich. In addition, Kensel Clutter, president of the Marion County Farm Bureau Association, and George Schertzer, Farm Bureau manager, were guests.

In other business at the meeting, Robert O'Connell, chairman of the arranging committee, made plans for having Kiwanis members ring bells at the Salvation Army kettle in front of the J. C. Penney Store.

Other guests at the meeting were J. White, Hubert Hoch, and Carl Brocklesby from Marion, and Kenneth Hassion from New Philadelphia.

Tax Receipts Decline Here, In Rest of State

Sales tax receipts in Marion County for the week ending Nov. 28, 1953, followed a statewide trend by showing a decrease over the corresponding period a year ago.

A report from the office of State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy shows receipts in Marion County for that week to be $23,557, while a year ago the same period's receipts amounted to $25,042.

State figures for the period were $3,208,079 while for the same week in 1952 they totaled $3,546,319. However, the report points out that total sales tax receipts for the first 22 weeks of he current reporting period amounted to $78,935,177 which is $7,909,054 more than was taken in during the same period in 1952, when a total of $71,026,122 was collected.

Receipts for the 1953 period for surrounding counties, with 1952 figures in parenthesis, are listed as follows: Crawford, $10,830 ($14,822); Delaware, $10,723 ($8,041); Hardin, $7,977 ($8,289); Morrow, $3,078 ($2,455); Union, $6,518 ($5,825); and Wyandot, $5,778 ($5,724).

A losing season may imperil the coach's contract but provides a rich storehouse of humorous material for use on the winter banquet circuit.

a little nervous herself, turned off the set. The face remained. She then placed the screen side of the set to the wall.

When her husband, an aircraft company employe, returned home from work, they swung the set around. The face was still there.

'It Can't Happen'

Radio and TV experts were consulted. One expert said, "It can't happen."

Network officials, given a description of the woman, could not identify her.

The face was probably an image from a previous program, Clurman said, and became engraved on the picture tube as a result of faulty equipment.

To erase the face, Clurman said, would require a new tube and a complete overhaul.

The Travers took another look at the screen yesterday. The face was still there. They turned the screen-side back to the wall.

G. E. Gustafson, chief research engineer for Zenith Radio Corp., which manufactured the set, said in Chicago the phenomenon was wholly unknown in TV electronics.

He called "not plausible" a theory the face was an image engraved on the picture tube from a previous program because of faulty equipment.

Gustafson said Zenith would investigate the situation immediately.

Fire Damages Furniture in Auction House

Fire of undetermined origin early last night caused an estimate $1,000 damage to furniture in Wilson's Auction House, located at the rear of the Highway Rollarena on E. Center St.

Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt said the blaze apparently started in some boxes of assorted bedding in the building but that no cause for the fire could be determined.

Firemen from the Central statin fought the blaze for 45 minutes. They were called out at 6:26 p.m.

Only slight damage resulted to the building. The rafters and inside of the roof were charred by the blaze and blackened with smoke but no holes were burned in the roof, firemen said.

Chief Sifritt said some assorted small pieces of furniture near the boxes of bedding were burned and all the furniture and other household items in the building were smoke damaged.

The storage building is owned by Highway Rollarena, Inc., and is leased to Clyde Wilson as a storage building and auction sales house.

A few months ago on June 3 another fire gutted the Wilson Furniture Co. building on E. Mill St. with a loss estimated at more than $25,000. The buillding has since been torn down.

Fourth Child Dies Of Crowbar Blows

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Only one of five small children whose father beat them with a crowbar "to save them from the tortures and torments of the devil" was still alive today.

Ohio Valley Hospital doctors and nurses watched anxiously today over 5-year-old Doran Holt, hoping an hour-long operation yesterday would save his life.

Last night his 4-year-old sister Susan died—more than 24 hours after her father, Frank Holt, 34, an unemployed miner, had killed her little brothers—Tracy, 1, Sidney, 2, and Sanford, 6.

Mt. Gilead Man Hurt in Mishap

Car Runs Off Road, Strikes Pole and Tree

A Mt. Gilead man was injured when his car failed to negotiate a curve in Morrow County this morning, state patrolmen from the Marion post reported. The accident happened on U. S. Route 42 at the southern edge of Williamsport.

Robert E. Braden, 27, of Mt. Gilead required treatment at Morrow County Hospital for lacerations of the scalp, abrasions of both legs, sprains of the neck and back, and a black eye.

His southbound car failed to make a curve, went off the left side of the road, into a ditch, shearing off a utility pole owned by the Ohio Edison Co., and striking a tree owned by Henry Baker of near Mt. Gilead. The car then returned to the highway where it turned over. Braden was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist. The car was demolished.

Taylor Aids Survey

In an article concerning the drawing of a new master sewer map of the city which appeared in Thursday's Star, it was incorrectly reported that Assistant City Engineer John V. Ruth is assisted in the project by J. E. Fletcher.

The assistant's name should have been Thomas J. Taylor. Fletcher has resigned from his position and was succeeded by Taylor, who resides with his wife and child at 198 Cummins Ave.

$25 Fire Reported

Loss of $25 was reported in a fire at 9:58 this morning at the home of Gilbur Pyles at the corner of Lindberg and Keener Aves.

A defective hookup between the stove and chimney caused the chimney to overheat and set fire to some siding, Fire Chief Owen A. Sifritt reported.

Firemen from the Central and W. Center St. stations answered the call.

Two Versions

By George Sokolsky

We must be grateful that some public officials keep diaries and arrange to have them published. Harold Ickes was a strong-minded man who held strong opinions on many subjects. Ickes's diary consists of about 6,000,000 words, of which only a comparatively few have yet seen the light of day.

SOKOLSKY

There is a conflict in what I am about to quote between the version in the book, "The Secret Dairy of Harold L. Ickes," and the version in "Look" magazine.

THE BOOK gives it this way:

"I had an interesting talk on Sunday with Secretary Dern as we drove down to Annapolis on our way to Jefferson Island. I have grown to like Dern a good deal and to respect his point of view. He is really a Progressive, but he is the quiet, self-contained sort that does not express himself very much. But he has principles and stands by them.

"He feels about Red hunting as I do and thinks it is absurd to deny Communists an opportunity to express themselves or to have a ticket on the ballot. I believe he would be an unhappy in a Communistic state as I would be. He feels, as I do, that it is better to bend somewhat to the wind than to be torn from the trunk of the tree and dashed to the ground."

LOOK PUTS it this way:

"I had an interesting talk with Secretary of War Dern on our way to Jefferson Island. He feels about Red hunting just as I do and thinks it is absurd to deny Communists an opportunity to express themselves or to have a ticket on the ballot.

"He thinks, as I do, that we are working toward a society of modified Communism, although I believe he would be as unhappy in a Communistic state as I. He feels, as I do, that it is better to bend to the wind than be torn from the trunk of the tree and dashed to the ground."

The sentence: "He thinks, as I do, that we are working toward a society of modified Communism. . .", which appeared in "Look," is omitted from the book, for what reason I do not know.

ICKES DISCLOSED an amazingly cynical story that gives us an insight into the technique of the cover-up which has plagued this country so in recent years.

It appears that in 1935, the Third International in Moscow had decided that the American Communist party should support Roosevelt in 1936 unless a more satisfactory candidate appeared.

Ickes says that James W. Fawcett of the Washington "star" telephoned to him to say that two copies of the minutes of this Moscow Conference were in this country, an incomplete one in the State Department, a complete one in the hands of the Hearst newspapers

Ickes called Steve Early, the President's secretary, and told him about it.

THEN ICKES has this to say:

"Significantly enough, on Monday morning there appeared a big story indicating the possibility of the severance of diplomatic relations between the United States and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics.

"A sharp note has gone to the Soviet government through our Ambassador Bullitt, based upon supposed encouragement by the U.S.S.R. of Communistic activities in this country in spite of the assurance of that country at the time that we resumed diplomatic relations that nothing of this sort would be done.

"Our State Department, of course, with the full encouragement of the President, is apparently pressing this matter vigorously.

"This movement to sever diplomatic relations is a very sudden one. At least there was no intimation of anything of the sort at the last Cabinet meeting or at any preceding one. My suspicion is that this is a shrewd counterattack to destroy the effect of the anticipated Hearst blast against the President."

I WISH ICKES were alive so that I might ask him what he meant by the phrase, "a society of modified Communism." How do you modify Communism?

I should also like to know whether he kept two diaries, one for publication by Simon and Schuster and the other for publication by "Look." Which is correct? Which has been edited out and for what reason?

The omission of half a sentence, the content of which is the most significant in the book, cannot be explained by the ancient excuse of saving space. That half sentence was omitted for some other reason.

"WE SOFTEN THE WATER FOR YOU"

Probe Hamstrung

By Victor Riesel

A "powerful" combine of high Congressional and political leaders has been accused of crushing a federal probe into "vicious racketeering conditions in at least a dozen of our major cities."

RIESEL

This charge can no longer be ignored. The accusation comes from a reputable attorney who has spent the best part of the outgoing year in a futile effort to throw the searchlight on the undercover network of those operators who used strong local unions as their fronts for a terror machine dripping with bloody bucks.

That attorney, who quit the congressional investigating committees in disgust is William F. McKenna, a member of the Los Angeles bar.

HE SAYS BLUNTLY that he was the man pressured.

He says bluntly he was told not to find any evidence which would incriminate anyone.

He has said bluntly that the network is as much the enemy of honest labor everywhere as it is of the cities it corrodes.

McKenna says it in these words:

"The investigations into racketeering by the staff of the House Government Operations Committee began last spring.

"By July, the investigators, all of whom are mature men with many years of FBI and other investigative experience, had accumulated information that showed without question vicious racketeering conditions in at least a dozen of our major cities."

THEN McKENNA makes a charge, which most certainly puts him way out on a limb, as an attorney and officer of the courts, by asserting:

"As professional staff members, general counsel, and investigators we made it our business to stay out of politics. We would, however, have been deaf, dumb and blind investigators to be oblivious to the pressures exerted by certain powerful lobbies to stop the inquiry into racketeering."

With the White House and the Justice Department busy on other tumultuous fronts, these divisions of our government apparently have not been briefed on McKenna's statements. Attorney General Brownell and President Eisenhower should know, however, that a few days ago McKenna said:

"Information came to us (The congressional probers) in words we could not misunderstand of an intention on the part of a higher authority (somewhere in Congress) that we not go so deeply into the Detroit situation that our hearings would result in subsequent criminal prosecutions."

McKENNA ADDS that the warning not to embarrass or hurt any of the men his staff was investigating did not come from any of the sub-committee's members.

"A major battle against racketeering was therefore lost," McKenna said bitterly.

"The staff, of course, has never been surprised at any of the decisions which have limited, restrained or, from time to time, stopped the investigation into racketeering.

"Attorneys and lobbyists for the interests under investigation have been too openly boastful of their ability to do just this, even to the investigators themselves, to permit of any surprise on our part."

AS McKENNA traced the grim story, it began in July when the full House Government Operations Committee slashed all hearings into racketeering — just as it was going into the network which stretches from New York and New Jersey across Central Pennsylvania, into Detroit, Chicago and Minneapolis on one tangent and St. Louis and points west on the other.

After the Operations Committee killed the probe, the same investigators shifted to a subcommittee of the House Labor Committee.

"Finally after some months of waiting, the staff was given 10 days notice that hearings could begin on Nov. 23, limited to certain aspects of the Detroit situation (which the national AFL headquarters itself has been probing—VR) McKenna revealed.

THEN CAME WORD that they were not to push so hard that they might find incriminating evidence.

"Somehow that political mantle must be torn open," McKenna now demands.

"A thorough Congressional inquiry is essential. The most practical means of getting this inquiry a recission of the Government Operations Committee's stop order of last July."

That's what the man said. On the record. But nothing has yet happened.

Welcome Words

By Laura Hobson

Every hard - pressed parent in America — and they come hard-pressed by the million these days ought to send up cheers for Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers for her words in Washington on Monday.

HOBSON

"Tragically inadequate" is what she called the $600 exemption for a child or any other dependent — and if there are any families in the U.S. who haven't proved out those two words for themselves, they must be millionaires or movie stars.

-:-

CONGRESSMAN ROGERS (R-Mass.) asked Congress to raise that $600 right away to $1000, and informed her colleagues that thousands of letters from harassed fathers and mothers in all parts of the country, back up her cry of "tragically inadequate."

The last "raise" we parents received in this exemption came in 1948 when the old $500 exemption was notched up to $600, and a welcome notch it was at the time.

But ask any mother to compare today's price tags on blue jeans and sneakers, for example, with those on blue jeans and sneakers back in 1948, and see what a tale you hear.

OR COMPARE today's dentist and doctor's bills, school bus fares, the cost of what fills your kids lunch boxes or dinner plates, the prices on their shoes and suits and socks and galoshes — even their baseball bats and skates and dolls and bikes.

Each comparison only shows how outworn and out - of - date that 1948 "raise" has become, and why Rep. Rogers says it's high time for another.

This picayune $600 exemption, she points out, "hits at the very root of American family life," and because of it many families, particularly young veterans' families, are unable to give adequate care to their youngsters, and in some cases actually avoid parenthood.

SINCE THE congresswoman from Massachusetts is also chairman of the House Veterans Committee, that last point is no vague generality, either.

To which should be added another very large argument: Many other families have to cut short their kids' schooling at the earliest possible date, just to get an added pay envelope on Saturdays.

The 1952 census bureau report showed that 4½ million boys and girls between the ages of 5 and 17 were not in school — and with the teen - age absentees in this horrid statistic, I'm willing to wager that money was the major reason.

Families who are sending their children to the State U. or to a private college find the $600 exemption wholly inadequate.

IF ANYTHING alive can manage to be more of a financial dependent than a college student, I'd like to know what it looks like. And so would any other parent who periodically receives special delivery letters begging for a swift check to bail the offspring out of some extra and new expense.

Anyway, with many shifts and changes already scheduled for January's overhaul of the current income tax law, maybe it's not unduly optimistic to believe that a little specific relief is on the way to ma and pa in every state of the union.

Rejection Too Hasty

Russian Blunder Seen on Atomic Plan

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the strangest problems of modern times confronts the Russians.

If they show interest in President Eisenhower's offer—for the United States, Russia and other nations to pool atomic materials for peace—they might slow down Western Europe's military preparations.

That's exactly what they've been trying to do for a long time by one propaganda device after another, knowing the West Europeans would rather not arm if they could be sure Moscow wants peace.

While never intending to see it through, the Russians could show interest in Eisenhower's idea and then stall as long as it suited their purpose.

Instead, the Moscow radio, before the Kremlin had time for serious reflection on the American offer, began denouncing it, charging Eisenhower's proposal was not peaceful at all but a threat of war.

And Russia's delegate to the United Nations, Andrei Vishinsky, quickly threw cold water on the idea too.

The White House refused to accept these reactions final unless the Soviet government officially says they are. It hasn't said so yet.

Nevertheless, the radio - Vishinsky reactions carried a sense of shock, not so much because the Russians seemed to be rejecting the idea but because they seemed to be rejecting it so quickly.

It was as if they had disclosed a fatal sickness: an inability to think fast in a new situation, adjust themselves to it, or turn it to their own use.

They sounded like mechanical men trained so long along one line of thought that they had to depend, not on the mind, but on a simple reflex action, "No."

The Russians were not prepared for Eisenhower's proposal. Their preliminary "no" looked like a tactical blunder.

Moscow for years has spent enormous time and energy in trying to get Western Europe into the Russian camp.

Between the end of the war in 1945 and launching of the Marshall Plan in 1948, Russia tried to take over Western Europe by means of local Communist parties working from within.

Those local Communists made astonishing gains in West European elections because their native countries were broke, confused and drifting. If the drift had continued, they might have taken over peacefully.

The United States recognized the danger and set in motion the Marshall Plan of economic aid to get Western Europe back on its feet. In a Europe beginning to prosper, the local Communists lost ground.

Russia would have no part of the plan. It began a long propaganda campaign against it. The United States and Western Europe, having tied their fortunes together economically, then did so militarily.

They set up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, in which they promised to come to one another's assistance if any of them was attacked. Russia propagandized against NATO and is still doing so.

In addition to economic aid, the United States contributed military aid. Next came the idea for EDC —European Defense Community —a single army of West Europeans. Russia propagandized against that.

NATO is far from perfect, and EDC isn't even in existence yet. Russia might delay both by showing interest in Eisenhower's atom plan. But the suddenness of the proposal seems to have stupefied the Russians.

Too Many Suitors, Neighbors Protest

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Neighbors filed charges recently against a young swain and complained suitors of two teen-age sisters on West Eubanks street were turning the block into another Times Square.

Yesterday, resigned neighbors said the situation is "as normal as you can expect when two pretty girls are concerned," and asked the suit be dropped.

Harry T. Hudson, the harassed father of the girls, replied when asked if there was any slowdown in traffic since the suit: "I can't tell the difference."

Colorado has 40 mountain peaks over 14,000 feet high—double the number to be found in the Alps—but none exceeds 14,500 feet.

Lima Man, 56, Is Convicted of Third Murder

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Albert Clark, 56, of Lima was convicted on his third murder charge early today and sentenced to life imprisonment.

An Allen County Common Pleas Court jury found Clark guilty of second degree murder in the death of his wife, Hannah, Aug. 21, 1950.

Clark pleaded self-defense.

Mrs. Clark who operated a boarding house and beauty parlor here, was shot to death at her home.

Following the shooting, Clark fled the city and was picked up in September at Ogden, Utah.

Clark had been convicted of murder in 1914 at Missouri and again in 1922 at Illinois. Both times he was paroled.

Good any time of year is the Strawberry-Orange Frosted, shown at the right. For each serving, use two big scoops of Strawberry Ice Cream (or vanilla if you prefer) and one cup of fresh or frozen orange juice. Blend with egg beater or mixer. Serve in a tall glass with an orange slice. And as for sodas, the possibilities are endless. Use vanilla ice cream, your favorite fruit or chocolate syrup, and fill the glass with sparkling water. Or, even simpler, just ice cream and your favorite soft drink. You'll find teen-agers really go for sodas "made at home."

Feels DiSalle Won't Run

No Opposition Expected By Burke in Primaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Burke (D-Ohio) said today he now plans to spend most of his time in Washington during the next session of Congress and do little campaigning in Ohio.

"I realize," the ex-Cleveland mayor told a reporter, "that I'm not well known in downstate Ohio. But I think I have a job to do in the Senate, and I won't do much campaigning until after Congress adjourns. After that, I will spend most of my time campaigning downstate.

"This certainly will be the case if I have no opposition in the primary."

Burke so far is the only candidate for the nomination of U.S. senator for next year's special election to complete the two years remaining of the term of the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio).

Asked whether he thought Michael V. DiSalle of Toledo, former price administrator, or anyone else would run against him in the primary, Burke replied:

"No, I do not. I think DiSalle planned to at one time, but not now.

"Some people have said there is a rift between DiSalle and me, but I think we're still good friends."

Burke supported DiSalle in his race last year against Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio).

Burke's likely Republican opponent at this point is Rep. Bender (R-Ohio), a fellow Clevelander. Bender hints he will announce his candidacy shortly.

"Of course, if George (Bender) does a lot of campaigning during the next session of Congress," said Burke, "I may have to follow him once in a while. At present, I have very few campaign plans, however. I have one speaking engagement with the young Democrats in Cincinnati in February, and that's all.

"Actually, I think the most important consideration in the next campaign is the performance of Congress and the President. If President Eisenhower, for instance, should find some way of easing our relations with the Russians, we would all rejoice.

"But then, that would mean the Republicans would have an advantage in the next campaign. If the Republicans should fall apart, then no matter how much campaigning Bender would do I would have an advantage."

As matters stand, Burke expressed the opinion that he and Bender would run against each other for the Senate, to succeed Taft, and State Auditor James Rhodes, a Republican, would run against Gov. Lausche for the governorship.

He said he thought ex-Ohio Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, a Republican, was a possible candidate, too, for Lausche's post. Billy O'Neill, Republican state attorney general, he said, is extremely unlikely to try either for the governorship or the Senate.

Bender is known to feel that O'Neill would not oppose him in the Republican senatorial primary.

Malenkov Purges Possible Enemies In Stalin Tradition

NEW YORK (AP)—The purge of possible enemies by Soviet Premier Georgi Malenkov and party boss Nikita Khrushchev continues, carrying with it overtones of personal vengeance and strong indications that the men of Moscow-centered great Russia are cracking down.

Moscow dispatches last night revealed Khrushchev, fresh from ridding Leningrad 10 days ago of its party Chieftain B. M. Andrianov, now has settled an old personal score down in Armenia.

He sent a favorite hatchet man, Peter N. Pospelov, to the trans-caucasian republic to boot out the entire Armenian party leadership.

Special disgrace was reserved for the long-time Armenian party leader, G. A. Arutiunov. He was fired and expelled from the Central Committee.

Probably Arutiunov has also been arrested. He and his cohorts are charged with harboring henchmen of Lavrenty P. Beria, Malenkov's top deputy until his downfall and arrest last summer.

The charge easily could be true, since Beria apparently had general responsibility under Stalin for all the three trans-caucasian republics Georgia, Armenia and Azerbayan. Brutiunov was no doubt responsible directly to Beria for many years for his policies and appointments.

Gets More Trouble

JACKSON, Mich. (AP) — Police found Willie Jones, 42, hiding in a stairwell of a store. When they asked why he'd broken in, he told them: "I'm in trouble with the government because of income tax and I was trying to get some money to pay it off."

NAMED ASSISTANT

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Ray B. Levering of Columbus has been named assistant to W. P. Roudebush, Miami University vice president, it was announced yesterday. Levering is a graduate of Miami and has been in the real estate business in Columbus.

HOW OFTEN SHOULD EYES BE EXAMINED?

In later years it is best to have a complete examination at least every six months. Younger people, in their 20's or 30's, should have a thorough examination at least once a year. After we have made a thorough examination we can advise you as to how often your eyes should be tested.

Fort Miami Raceways Sues To Retain Track

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Fort Miami Raceways, Inc., battled in Common Pleas Court today for a place to hold running races next spring and fall.

The turf organization has sued the Lucas County Agricultural Society for ending a contract allowing it to hold races at the county-owned Fort Miami track. The contract was canceled after last spring's race meeting and a scheduled fall meeting was called off.

The agricultural society gave as its reason for ending the lease that liquor was sold on the premises—a practice of long-standing.

Legion Post's Toy Show Set December 22

Playthings Presented As 'Tickets' Will Be Distributed to Needy

The annual Christmas toy show sponsored by Bird McGinnis Post 162, American Legion, will be held Tuesday morning, Dec. 22, at the Palace Theater.

The show, being sponsored here by Post 162 for the fifth year in cooperation with the Palace Theater, benefits the under-privileged children of the city and county.

Toys Will Be Tickets

Admission to the show, which will feature cartoons and a western movie, is a toy. The toys are taken to the Legion Dugout where they are later sorted out and made available for children of the needy families of Marion and the county.

Parents unable to furnish their children with toys for Christmas should write the local American Legion Post through P.O. Bos 237, Marion, no later than Dec. 20, it was announced by Fred Thacker, past commander of the Bird-McGinnis Post who is in charge of arrangements. Parents should tell the age of their child or children, number and whether they are boys or girls. Toys will be reserved for them, Thacker said, and the post will notify the parents when they can call for them.

Must Be in Good Condition

Thacker said toys brought by children as admission to the movie should be new or in good condition as the post does not have the time or facilities to repair them.

Anyone else wishing to donate toys may call Dr. Gerald Strauss, ird McGinnis Post commander, at 2-1588 during the daytime, or at the post home in the evening and arrangements will be made to pick up the toys. Telephone number at the post home is 2-3710.

The two-hour show which will start at 10 a.m. will include a technicolor western, a comedy and cartoons. Doors will open at 9:15 a.m. Palace Theater management is donating the theater and employes are donating their time, Thacker said.

Started 5 Years Ago

Bird McGinnis Post began the toy program five years ago. It started with the local post sending toys to the needy children of Europe. For the past three years the program has been confined locally. Many of the toys collected are sent to the Childrens Home.

At a recent post meeting, guest speakers, M. H. Francill and Art Brown told the group some of the ways in which Communists operate to secure secret information and also of the forthcoming lecture, "How To Stop Communism," which will be held Thursday, Jan. 21, at Harding High School.

It was decided to send $10 to the "Give To The Yanks Who Gave" fund.

KILLED IN CRASH

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Hope Smith Wick, 31, of Rt. 1, Marietta, was killed last night in a car-truck collision in downtown Marietta.

While Santa tries to figure out how he can help the Dreamlins rescue their queen from the Gremlins, Willie the pup takes a look around Santa Land. He sees Santa's reindeer practicing their flying and decides he will be a "flying pup."

CHAPTER EIGHT

While Willie enjoyed himself in Santa Land Henrietta searched the city for her lost puppy.

At the very moment that Willie decided to become a flying pup, Henrietta put an advertisement in the newspaper. It said, "Lost: Brown and white puppy named Willie." And it gave Henrietta's address. But although the ad ran for three days no one ever found Willie.

Henrietta herself walked the streets and searched the alleys calling for Willie. When she was not hunting for her dog she sat on the steps of the little house where she lived and just waited.

"Someday he'll come home," she told herself. "Someday he'll come back to me. I know it."

EACH NIGHT Henrietta woke up screaming, "Willie!" Willie!" For it was a nightmare she had that Willie was run over or sick or hungry somewhere. And after she was really awake she would lie there for a long while and think about Willie.

Meanwhile, the family was heartbroken to see the little girl so grieved. The father blamed himself. Finally, he said, "I will buy her a new dog. A real fine pedigreed dog—the best that money can buy. Such a dog will make Henrietta forget all about Willie."

"But, where will you get the money?" asked the mother.

The father was a wood chopper and he said, "I will chop more wood and earn more money."

The uncles and aunts worked in a cigar factory rolling cigars out of tobacco leaves. Now they said, "We will help you. We will roll more cigars and make more money to help buy a grand expensive champion of a dog."

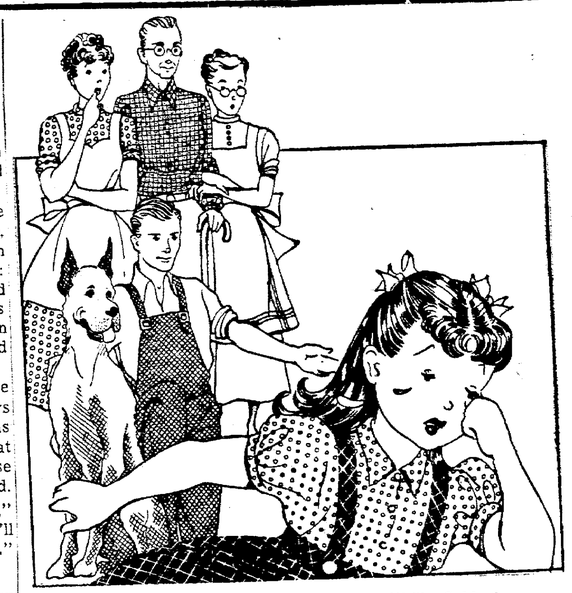
THE GRANDPAPA was a seller of shoelaces and hairpins. He went from door to door selling these things for pennies. He said "From now on I shall go to twice as many houses and make twice as much money as that I, too, can help to buy this wonderful animal."



"Take Him Away! Take Him Away!" She Sobbed.

The father and grandpa and uncles and aunts already worked all the day long but now they worked at night, too. Very, very late, when they had come home at last, they would count the extra pennies they had earned.

While Henrietta slept they sat about the kitchen table and whispered about their plans. Then, when Henrietta woke up screaming, "Willie! Willie!" the old folks smiled and thought: "Just wait until she gets sight of a real champion dog. She won't be calling for Willie anymore."

FINALLY THE day came when they had enough money and the father went to the finest pet store in the town and asked to see their finest dog. The clerk showed him a grand aristocrat of a dog sitting like a king in the store window. He was big and sleek and noble and cost $100.

The father had only $20. But he said, "I've got to have this dog. I'll pay you what I have and pay the rest a little each week. Besides that I will clean up your store every Sunday for nothing. The clerk said all right; but that way he would have to pay $110 instead of $100 for the dog. The father promised to do that.

Then he led the lordly dignified dog home. They were all waiting eagerly in the kitchen for him except Henrietta who was out searching for Willie as usual.

"What a royal looking animal!" exclaimed the family.

And indeed the dog was. He stared at them all proudly and there was never a quiver of his tail to show if he liked them.

"The child is coming!" whispered the father.

THEY HEARD Henriettas slow steps crossing the porch. The door opened and the little girl came in. She stared in astonishment at the kingly dog who stood before her.

The whole family held its breath and waited.

Suddenly Henrietta burst into tears. She turned and ran from the room. The father went after her.

"He's yours, child!" pleaded the father. "We bought him for you—the finest dog in town!"

Henrietta threw herself in the father's arms. "Take him away! Take him away!" she sobbed. "This is Willie's house," wept Henrietta. "No one can ever take Willie's place!"

Levy To Raise Teachers' Pay Passes in Lima

LIMA, Ohio —School officials campaigning for extra money to raise teachers' pay, seemed victorious today as results of a special election to supply the tax revenue were announced.

The unofficial count showed the necessary 60 per cent favoring the 3.7 mill levy to help pay current school operations.

A total of 11,332 votes were cast, election officials said, a record turnout for any special election held in the city.

The school assessment proposal was defeated at the regular Nov. 3 election. Later, the Lima City School Board called for the special election.

The new levy is expected to provide more than $400,000 a year for two years to increase teachers' and school staff pay.

Wife Not Doing So Well, Neither Was He, Detroiter Finds

DETROIT (AP)—William Jones, 24, came back to town to see how his wife was doing on a charge of taking $685 from her employer's till and attempting to make it look like a burglary.

He found out Polly wasn't doing too well and landed in jail himself. Detective John McGruddy said Jones admitted he schemed the thing for his wife so they could drive home to Newport, Tenn., for Christmas in a used car they planned to buy.

McGruddy said Mrs. Jones pleaded guilty to embezzlement after arrest Saturday. Jones, he said, fled town then. The husband was nabbed as he inquired of his wife in a court lobby.

Wife's Shopping Spree Too Much for Detroiter

DETROIT (AP)—John Vlaikov, 64, charged with drunken driving, testified that he went on a spree after his 70-year-old wife Theresa went on a shopping binge and bought 35 hats and 40 dresses.

Traffic Judge John D. Watts sentenced him to 30 days.

Mrs. Vlaikov accompanied her husband to court—wearing a babushka.

Long Beach Boy, 3, Is Saved by His Dog

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Three-year-old Terry Jagars and Bunny, his cocker spaniel were dripping wet and shivering when police found them on the bank of the Los Angeles River flood control channel yesterday.

"Bunny helped me out of the water," Terry told officers. Police said Terry must have fallen in and the small dog somehow must have rescued him.

SOVIET GENERAL DEAD

MOSCOW (AP)— Maj. Gen. Alexander N. Vavrakin, 53, who rose from the ranks of the Soviet Army to become a general officer in World War II, has died after a long illness, the newspaper Red Star announced today.

The first and second grades will entertain with a bunny band, a blue bird chorus and a chime band. Presenting an operetta, "At the Court of Santa Claus," will be the third and fourth grades pupils.

Principal parts will be portrayed by Freddie Lepard, Joan Collins, Karen Davids, Jimmie Cornett, Lucille Bails, James Handley, Ann Myers, David Verity, Janis Lauer, John Brannon, Robert Landon, Larry Lane, Ned Phelps, Gary Pearch and Carl Miley. They will be assisted by a chorus.

The fourth and fifth grade pupils will sing Fred Waring's musical arrangement of "'Twas the Night Before Christmas," and to conclude the program the sixth grade will present music and a play, "Three Kings of Orient." Principal characters will be Robert Stiffler, Darus Bumgartner and Richard Halley.

Costumes are being planned by the room mothers and decorations for the auditorium are in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Stiffler, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Milligan, Mrs. Dale Fields and Mrs. George Reed.

NEA Says Ohio Needs $150 Million in Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Education Assn. says Ohio needs an estimated 150 million dollars worth of school buildings to house the 1953-54 public school enrollment. The estimate is based on information supplied by the Ohio education department.

Runaway Truck Tire Damages Marietta Home

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP) — A runaway truck tire was blamed today for damaging the home of Justice of the Peace W. R. Sellers at nearby Belpre.

Washington County Sheriff Dean Ellis said he found a big tire about 40 yards from the house and a single tire track leading to the home.

The sheriff said he believed the tire rolled off a truck and gathered enough momentum to crack plaster of Sellers' home and break some furnishings.

No trucker, however, reported any tires missing.

'Once Over' Gets a Going Over In Matter of Christmas Mailing

Local postoffice employes aren't laughing at an item that appeared in H. I. Phillips' column, The Once Over, in last night's Star.

Phillips, a syndicated editorial page columnist, bemoaned the passing of an era and his moaning has kept the postoffice phone ringing all day.

Misunderstood Ruling

The trouble stems from Phillips' probable misinterpretation of some postal regulations, Marion Postmaster Homer Cole said today.

Phillips wrote that this year it will cost 3 cents to mail a Christmas card, sealed or unsealed, no matter what its size. He added that in the past a card not exceeding four by two and three-quarters inches could be sent unsealed for 2 cents.

According to instructions recently issued by the assistant postmaster general, however, "Unsealed Christmas greetings sent as third-class mail without unauthorized writing enclosed are chargeable with 2 cents postage (if weight does not exceed 2 ounces)."

The rules do say, however, that 'a minimum charge of 3 cents is applicable to such greeting cards which measure less than four inches long or two and three-quarters wide."

Rule for Many Years

This has been the rule for a number of years, and there has been no change this season, Postmaster Homer D. Cole reported this morning.

He said the postoffice had received about 30 inquiries since Phillips' column appeared yesterday.

So, despite what Phillips says, you can still send a greeting for 2 cents if it doesn't weigh more than 2 ounces, is unsealed, contains no unauthorized writing except for greetings, and exceeds the minimum measurements for third-class mail.

Postal authorities, however, advise the use of first-class mail at the rate of 3 cents for one ounce, the weight of the average card. First class mail may be sealed and can contain personal messages. It is delivered first and, if not delivered, returned to the sender.

Postoffice officials also caution against the use of small cards. Because of their size, they become easily lost, often by slipping inside larger, unsealed envelopes.

Crawford Church Noting Centennial

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — The College Hill Evangelical and Reformed Church, which is located 14 miles north of Bucyrus on State Route 4, will hold two special services Sunday in obervance of the church' centennial anniversary.

The services will be the first held in the church's new building, which was recently completed and will be dedicated next spring. The morning service will feature an address by Rev. Paul Lammers of Greidlansville, Ind., a former pastor, and at the afternoon service there will be addresses by Rev. Harold E. Weber of Cleveland and Rev. L. A. Sigrist of New Bedford, O., also former pastors of the College Hill Church. Their messages will be based on the theme, 'A Challenge to the Task." There will be a fellowship dinner at noon.

The church, founded in 1853, originally was known as the Windfall German Reformed Church. The new brick church replaces a wooden worship place, which was built in 1872.

Brown Is a Masterful Coach, Signal Caller, Club Manager

By MILES A. SMITH

CLEVELAND (AP)—General manager, coach and quarterback. Which of the three Paul Browns is the real one?

Each of the titles fits him. He seems to put the most heart into calling signals for his team, a sort of 12th player on the sidelines. You could build a logical case for the idea that he is really a quarterback in his other jobs too.

He is known as a great organizer—witness the high school farm system he built in Massillon, which still works. He is thorough—with his notebooks and his "special units" he has created a professional team that in eight seasons never has been less than a divisional champion.

He even knows what to do about Paul Brown. In the dressing room after a game he is constantly shuffling his feet and swinging his arms. The other Sunday a reporter asked whether the game hadn't contained a lot of "ucler material." His reply was, "that's why I keep moving like this. It lets off the inner steam."

But everything about him comes back to the one characteristic that everyone knows, "the intense desire to win." Can he lose?

He had a losing season once. His 1942 Ohio State champions, and even that year's freshmen, went into selective service. Ohio State was left with four men who had flunked their military physicals, and some newly matriculated freshmen. No naval trainees, such as the other schools had. The "Baby Bucks" of 1043 always led at halftime, but they lost six of their nine games.

For years afterward Brown would grow downright sentimental when that team was mentioned. "They were the most courageous team I ever saw," he said. "I was proud of them."

Was the thorough-going Brown ever unsure of himself? In 1948, for once in his life, he admitted to his friends that he was not sure what he was going to do. That was the third year of the All—American Conference, and ironically enough, the year the Cleveland Browns had a perfect season.

The Cleveland club had entered the newly formed conference in 1946 because Arthur McBride, a taxi and real estate magnate, wanted a professional football team that was "absolutely the best."

When it became known Lieutenant (jg) Paul Brown of Great Lakes was not returning to Columbus, some rather unpleasant things were said by some people in the Buckeye town. But after all, he had been on a professor's salary at Ohio State. And there is reason to believe his annual income here is $25,000 plus 15 per cent of the profits.

What went wrong in 1948? Nothing was wrong with the Cleveland club. It was winning all the championships.

The old Cleveland Rams, who moved to Los Angeles, when the Browns started up used to feel so lonely in Municipal Stadium they finally moved back to League Park, now a Brown practice field. But the Browns' stadium attendance for seven league games and the championship in their first year, 1946, was 440,000. By 1948 it had tapered off when the fans decided Cleveland apparently was too good for the rest of the conference, except maybe the San Francisco 49ers.

The trouble was that other clubs in the conference were having really serious attendance problems, and the war with the national league over signing college graduates was a financial drain.

Guiding Genius of the Browns

"I was unsettled that year," Brown says now, "because the league was unstable. But I learned what moves were being made behind the scenes and I knew that eventually we would go into the National League. It took another year, but I knew things would straighten out and I was glad the change was coming. I didn't care what league we were in. I just wanted to play."

That winter Brown's original contract, with two years to go, was extended to a total of seven years from then. The group of Cleveland sportsmen who bought the club last summer has a contract which runs through 1955, making 10 years of pro coaching for Brown.

There also had been stories in the fall of 1948 that the "country boy" who came up from Massillon and Ohio State simply could not reconcile himself to the big city. In October, after setting the town on its ear all summer with a wild pennant race, Bill Veeck's Cleveland Indians had won the World Series. Perhaps there was no connection between that fact and Brown's uneasiness. Perhaps there was.

Looking back on it now, he merely says with a smile. "Massillon was a football town. Columbus was a football town. It was different here."

The National League had jeered at the upstart All-American Conference. Some NFL fans jeered "go get a football." And whom did the Browns meet in their first National League game? No one but the Eagles, who held the league championship, Cleveland 35, Philadelphia 10.

That was one game when there was no question about who had the "intense desire to win."

If that will to win is the key to Brown and his whole career, where did it come from? Ask him, and you will see his face glow as though all the lights in the stadium had been turned on. The words come rushing out:

"I get it from my mother. She loves games. She always has. You should see her play bridge. She watches our games on television, and sometimes she comes up to see them. She was here for the San Francisco game. I hear she nearly shoved her neighbors off their seats, she rooted so hard. Of course she doesn't know football, but that doesn't matter. She likes anything that's a game."

Did she used to play games with young Paul, and his sister, back in the days when they were little kids?

"Sure. Checkers, or anything. Our whole family played games. When I got into high school it was my old coach, Dave Stewart, who taught me football, and he liked to win too. But it was my mother who taught me to play games, and play hard."

Later, you ask Mrs. Brown about it. A widow since 1941, she still lives in Massillon. She seemed pleased about what her son had said. Yes, she remembered the checker games. Bridge? Oh yes, and now canasta too.

And then, suddenly, a remark that Brown had made takes on more significance.

"Some coaches dread the day of a game," he said. "I don't. I love it. I love to get into the game."

General manager, coach and quarterback. Which is the real Paul Brown?

Just call him the kid who plays to win.

Waldo, Lewis Win Matches at Local Armory

Ricky Waldo, Jim Lewis and the midget tag team of Sallie Halasie and Karl Kruger were winners Thursday night in the wrestling matches at the Marion Armory.

In the latter, the final match of the night, Halasie and Kruger took the last two falls to win. The deciding one came when Halasie went on a drop kicking spree and dropped both Tiger Jackson and the Mitey Schultz in 15 minutes.

Jackson and Schultl took the first fall in 18 minutes but Halasie and Kruger came back to win the second in 16 minutes.

Waldo was winner of the opening match in ten minutes when Mr. Satan was disqualified for roughing up referee Ted Marshall of Detroit.

Lewis was declared winner over the Masked Marvel in a rough second match. The loser got the first fall with a backbreaker in 17 minutes but Lewis came right back to take the second with drop kicks in six minutes.

The wrestling commission here first gave the match to Lewis when the Masked Marvel threw him out of the ring. Lewis succeeded in getting back into the ring and the Masked Marvel out. When the referee tried to get Lewis away from the ropes, he slugged the referee—knocking him out of the ring—and the referee awarded the match to the Masked Marvel. But the commisison reversed the referee and gave the match to Lewis.

The commission has ordered the pair for a re-match here at the earliest possible date.

Chisox Trade Three Players For Marshall

Pitcher Saul Rogovin, Infielders Kronich and Ryan Sent to Redlegs

CHICAGO (AP)—Rebuffed in his own American League trading marts, General Manager Frank Lane of the Chicago White Sox has tapped the National League for veteran outfielder Willard Marshall.

To get the 32-year-old southpaw swinger from the Cincinnati Redlegs, Lane yielded three players—Saul Rogovin, a 30-year-old right-handed pitcher, and infielders Rocco Krsnich and Connie Ryan.

All four players had to be waived on in their own league before the trade.

Marshall, a teammate of Sox Manager Paul Richards at Atlanta in 1940 and 1941, has led a fairly successful nomadic life in the majors.

He was bought by the New York Giants in 1942 before entering the service for three years. He returned to the Giants in 1947 and reached his slugging peak by slamming 36 homers, driving in 107 runs and batting .291 that season.

He was traded to the Boston Braves in 1950 and in 1952 was sold to Cincinnati. Last season in 122 games he hit 17 homers, 14 doubles and 6 triples while batting .266 and driving in 62 runs.

Lane has been on the prowl for a front-line third baseman without avail. Marshall may add enough outfield strength to permit the shifting of Minnie Minoso from left field to third, in case Cass Michaels proves inadequate.

Jeff Cravath Dies of Injuries In Auto Crash

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP) — Messages of condolence by the hundreds reached this little Imperial Valley town today as funeral arrangements were awaited for Newell (Jeff) Cravath, former football coach at the University of Southern California.

They came from officials of USC, the school where he starred as a player and whose teams he guided as a coach for nine years; from his coaching rival at Notre Dame, Frank Leahy; from Michigan's Fritz Crisler, who handed Jeff the Trojans' worst defeat in the Rose Bowl, and from many others famed in college sports.

Cravath, who spent most of his life against a background of excitement and the roar of big time football crowds, met death at a lonely highway intersection in this flat desert country.

Injured in a traffic crash two days ago, he died in a hospital at the border town of Calexico yesterday shortly before noon.

Cravath coached the Trojans to four conference championships and into the Rose Bowl four times. In the latter games, he won from Washington and Tennessee and lost to Alabama and Crisler's Michigan team.

Cravath's record at USC was 54 victories, 28 defeats and eight ties.

Radio and Television

By John Crosby

Caracas in Bed

CARACAS, Venezuela. Almost everything about Venezuela is faintly incredible—its $1,000,000 a day income from oil (the population is only 5,000,000), its Centro Bolivar in the heart of Caracas which, when finished, will be three times the size of Rockefeller Center and will cost three times as much (and, incidentally, is a far more ingenious and imaginative development), its multi-million dollar Officers Club which may be the most luxurious club anywhere on earth (dues: $15 a year).

One of the showgirls who came down for the opening of Caracas' new $8,000,000 Hotel Tamanaco observed wistfully: "When I get back to New York, I'm not going to tell anybody anything about Venezuela. we'd been there a couple days, one of the members of our press group put it even more succinctly. "Venezuela," he remarked, "is Texas with money."

AMONG THE ODDITIES of this boom town is the fact that it boasts three television stations—two commercial stations, one government-owned station. Only 15,000 TV sets have been imported into the country and it's a good guess that only 10,000 of them have been sold—so that's an awful lot of TV stations for such a small market. Still they're all doing pretty well.

If you think American TV is over-commercialized, you should spend an evening with Venezuelan TV. The Venezuelans casually toss 15 or 20 spot commercials at you in succession. Sometimes you get two competing watch companies—the town is full of Swiss selling watches—back to back—a practice that would drive an American ad man out of his mind.

The rights to televise the opening ceremonies and show from the Tamanaco were sold for $10,000—which means $1 per available set. They kept televising right through until 3 a.m. Heaven knows who was looking at that hour. Probably nobody.

Having paid all that money, the station was darn well going to get it back and it threw in one spot commercial after another in the funniest places. Star of the show was Patachou, the tempermental French songstress, who could have had a fit if he'd known that spot commercials were being thrown right into the middle of her songs.

SPONSORS ARE LKELY to be the same old American companies we're used to here—cigarette companies, soap companies and appliance people. The two oil companies—Standard Oil and Shell which operate most of the nation's oil business—are big sponsors, only partly to sell gas. The oil companies have never forgotten the expropriation of their oil properties in Mexico, at least partly attributable to terrible public relations.

Consequently, their TV shows, while partly designed to sell gas, are aimed more at moulding and placating public opinion. Shell has a symphony program. Esso has a couple programs—a good evening news show six times a week, and a half hour program on Sunday which is probably the most ambitious show on Venezuelan television.

On both shows, along with a little gas advertising, you will hear urgent pleas to drive carefully—the Venezuelans drive like maniacs—along with talks and pictures about how much money Standard Oil has sunk into Venezuela and how much good it is doing it.

BOTH SHOWS HAVE problems peculiar to Venezuela. Weather reports, which are among the most popular things on TV in the United States, simply don't interest anyone in Caracas which is renowned for its eternal spring. The weather is always the same—with temperatures around 72, sunny with cool winds, except during a rainy season in May and June. So why listen to a weather report?

Another thing, so dear to us but verboten in Venezuela, is politics. Venezuela is operated by a military junta headed by President Marcos Perez Jimenez, a hard-working, very capable and benevolent despot but one who doesn't cater to criticism any more than any other dictator. So no politics. No climate, no politics. It's pretty limiting.

STILL, SO MUCH is happening in Venezuela—new roads, buildings $6,000,000 highways springing up all over the place—that there's plenty of local news. "El Observador Creaole," the Esso news show, is proud of the fact that it brings today's news today. Some of the other TV news shows show films that are as much as two weeks old.

The Esso show, which is produced by Alan Coogan, a former United Press bureau chief, and Betina Muir, who knows more about Latin America than anyone else I met, is modeled after the John Cameron Swayze show in this country and presents films of events that took place either that day or the day before. Considering the Venezuelans' charming indifference to time, this is quite a feat.

Erie Accepts Bid

Special to The Star

Cleveland, Erie Railroad yesterday accepted the bid of $99,166 submitted by Kidder, Peabody & Company for $5,400,000 par value of 15-year equipment trust certificates at an annual interest rate of 3 per cent. This represents interest cost to the Erie of 3.1105 per cent.

Other bids received included: Halsay, Stuart & Co., 99.76; Blair, Rollins & Co., 99.64, and Salomon Bros. & Hutzler, 99.51, all at 3 and ⅛ per cent.

More borax is produced in the southwestern United States than in any other part of the world. Chile ranks second.

'SGT. FRIDAY' TO WED ACTRESS. Jack Webb, star, director and owner of the TV show "Dragnet," is reportedly planning to marry blonde actress Dorothy Towne (left) as soon as his divorce is final. Webb was recently divorced from his childhood sweetheart, Julie London. Miss Towne, 24, met Webb while playing a bit role on the show.
